Mystery Blast Rocks Waterville

WATERVILLE, Me., Dec. 8 (AP)—The origin of a blast described by hundreds of Kennebec valley residents as sounding like an earthquake or loud explosion puzzled authorities today.

Waterville police and State Police headquarters at Augusta were deluged with calls after the noise was heard at 10:30 last night.

Police were unable to find any source of it and the seismograph station at Weston College, Weston, Mass., said no earthquake had been recorded there.

Dr. J. H. Giesen, resident of near-by Oakland, told Waterville police the mysterious noise reminded him of bomb explosions at Pearl Harbor where he went through the Japanese attack six years ago.

Police Sgt. Albert E. Roy said he was in his home when it occurred and for a moment, he thought, "the cellar floor had come up to the ceiling."

United Nations decision. At least 216 had been killed in the Middle East.

The fiery battle of Tel Aviv was renewed during the morning and five more Jews were killed. Seven Arabs and a Jew were killed in other actions during the night.

Bloodier even than Palestine was the little Arabian sea colony of Aden where British military forces controlled the situation after 124 persons had been killed, 79 of them Jews. Four other persons died earlier in Syria.

QUIT MANDATE MAY 15

The British informed the United Nations they would abandon their mandate over Palestine May 15, making way for the Jewish state and its Arab counterpart.

Great Britain has controlled the strategically placed land ever since the old Turkish empire crumbled in the first World War 30 years ago. There are nearly twice as many Arabs as Jews in Palestine, but the British have restricted immigration.

"When the sword speaks, everything else must be silent," said the exiled Mufti of Palestine, Haj Amin El Hussein. He made this comment at Cairo where he met with Arab leaders from Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Lebanon, Syria, Egypt and Yemen.

Sudden Halt of Strike in Paris Blow to Reds

PARIS, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT) suffered a sharp setback today when a two-day strike of Paris subway and bus workers, scheduled to begin this morning, apparently collapsed.

At the same time a five-day "warning strike" of government workers, called by the CGT in an attempt to pull approximately 1,200,000 civil servants off their jobs, was meeting with dubious success.

The strike started for some groups of government employees last Friday and was due to extend to all departments this morning, but government officials declared their offices were functioning normally.

A spokesman for the Paris Transport System said the subway and bus strike had been called off by the union because it was "a failure."

Headquarters of the CGT affiliate which called the strike confirmed that it had been "annulled," but declined to give the reason.

The strike vote had been carried by a strong majority of union members at a closed meeting last night after a central strike committee composed of CGT members had rejected Premier Schuman's offer of a cost-of-living indemnity for workers.

Public transportation workers holding membership in two other union groups had opposed the work stoppage, called by the strike committee to enforce demands for a general wage increase.

Despite statements by transport authorities that subway service was normal, subway riders noted there seemed to be fewer trains than usual and they did not seem to be running at their usual speed.

7000 of Hub Jewry Hail New Homeland

More than 7000 persons, representing 61 Jewish organizations of Greater Boston and the New England Zionist region, jammed Mechanics Hall last night to join in prayer and thanksgiving for the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine.

Making the mass observance doubly significant was the lighting of the first candle of the traditional Chanukah Festival, commemorating the struggle of the Jewish people for independence against Syrian invaders 2100 years ago.

Moshe Sherlok, chief speaker for the Jewish Agency for Palestine, hailed the decision of the Assembly of the United Nations as "not only a Zionist victory, but also a triumph for the cause of the United Nations," and said vindication of this act of faith was now a collective responsibility of all the Jewish people.

"Let the many outside Palestine not fail the few that are there, and the vision of generations will become the reality of our day," Sherlok declared.

STATESMEN SPEAK

Gov. Bradford, in a message read by Fred Monoson, chairman of the meeting, said the UN vote marked an important milestone toward the creation of a Jewish state and expressed the hope there would be an immediate end to violence and bloodshed in the Holy Land.

Sen. Saltonstall in a message of greeting declared:

"We must wholeheartedly, prayerfully and yet with reason and care support the partition of Palestine—the first far-reaching decision of our United Nations peace body."

Sen. Lodge expressed his gratification, saying:

"At last it appears the historic moment has arrived when the Jews will find the Promised Land and a way out of their suffering."

STATUS OF DIGNITY-SIDE

Elihu D. Stone, veteran Zionist leader and member of the World Zionist Committee, declared:

"The Jew is no longer a homeless beggar occupying the tragic status of a living ghost among the peoples of the world, but rather he has achieved a status of dignity, self-respect, and equality in the family of nations."

"The mutual and true interest of the Arabs and Jews calls for brotherly occupation," Stone said. "Meanwhile, we are resolved to defend the Jewish state with all that we have and possess. There will be no retreat. There will be no surrender."

Irwin Auto Deals Checked for Clues

Names of men involved in business deals with Eugene P. Irwin, 32, were turned over to detectives of the racket squad today as the fourth day passed with no word of the fate of the Dorchester auto dealer and candy store owner.

Police held to the opinion he was robbed of $8450 in cash on a downtown street by gangsters who have taken him out of town and are hiding him for a reason as yet not revealed.

That he might have resisted a holdup attempt and died struggling with bandits was held the second most likely explanation.

The belief he met with foul play, however, was still the official police opinion, and a teletype message expressing this fear was sent to authorities along the Eastern seaboard. A routine check of hospitals and doctors' offices throughout New England has been ordered.

SLEUTHS GET LIST

The names of Irwin's business acquaintances were turned over to Deputy Supt. James T. Sheehan and Detectives Edward Blake and Joseph Cunningham of the racket squad. All will be checked in a search for a possible disgruntled associate or irate dealer intent on revenge over some transaction.

Meanwhile, police learned that a Quincy man questioned in the case, who was with Irwin just before his disappearance, was previously involved in two mysterious deals with other auto dealers.

Last night a Farmington, Me., auto dealer came forward with information that the Quincy suspect called him only a few weeks ago concerning a sale.

He told authorities that, as a result of the call, he met the suspect, after first depositing a considerable amount of cash with an auctioneer and started to drive him to the sale.

STOP NEAR POND

En route, according to the Maine man's story, the suspect asked him to stop his car at the edge of Walden Pond. The suspect got out and began studying the car suspiciously.

He said he thought the Quincy man intended to rob and kill him, and that he told him:

"If you have any idea of holding me up, you're foolish. I left

HIT BY PLATE—Two black eyes were suffered by Kathryn Grayson, of the screen, when a plate, which she was putting on a shelf in her home, slipped and struck her.

all my money with the auctioneer."

He said he then got into the car with the Quincy man, drove to Concord, and that no further mention was made of the prospective sale.

Another Maine resident, a Portland man, volunteered a similar story concerning the automobile activities of the suspect.

He told investigators the Quincy man drove him to a wooded section near Boston, while en route to a salesroom, and began talking about money, which ended abruptly when he said he was carrying only checks.

Meanwhile Sgt. Thomas Mundy, of the Fields Corner station, active in the investigation since Irwin vanished, expressed the opinion that the dealer is a victim of foul play.

Nip Holdup Suspect's Vineyard Honeymoon

A 21-year-old Millington, Tenn., man, honeymooning with his bride of less than two weeks on Martha's Vineyard, was picked up today by FBI agents on a charge of attempting to hold up a Memphis bank the day before his Thanksgiving wedding.

Edward A. Soucy, Boston FBI head, identified the youth as Billie Mack Clements and said he had been south throughout the South since his attempted holdup of the Commercial & Industrial Bank of Memphis last Nov. 26.

Soucy said a worthless check for $2952, drawn on the Martha's Vineyard National Bank of Tisbury, had put FBI agents on the trail of Clements.

The check had been issued to the Cockcroft Motor Sales, of Memphis, in payment for a new car, which was in Clements' possession when he was arrested, Soucy said.

In the attempted bank holdup, Soucy said, a young man walked up to the teller's window and handed him a note. The note stated it was a holdup and demanded $4000 in 10, 20 and 50-dollar bills.

TELLER SCARES YOUTH

Instead of complying, Soucy said, the teller closed his cash drawer and told the youth he would have to make his demand

More Military Experts for China

NANKING, Dec. 8 (AP)—It was learned today that planning is under way in Nanking and Washington for expansion of U. S. military advisory groups in China in the event large-scale American military assistance is granted Chiang Kai-shek's armies.

Estimates indicated 5500 Army, Navy and Air Force advisors would be needed if the demands of various Congressmen for direct assistance to government armies are approved.

The total would be divided in this way: Army—at least 3000, compared with the present 300; Air—1600, compared with 300; Naval—300, compared with 116.

2 Newton Men Badly Hurt In Brighton Bakery Blast

Hit-Run Car Badly Injures Newsboy, 15

A 15-year-old Allston newsboy was seriously injured early today when struck at Gaffney st. and Commonwealth ave., Brighton by a hit-run motorist who sped from the scene leaving the boy semi-conscious in a snow bank.

Despite the seriousness of his injuries, Robert Smith of Bayard st. was able to give police a description of the car and several numbers from the registration plate. The boy was discovered by Nathaniel Turner of Northampton st., South End, and was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital where he was said to be suffering questionable fractures of the right hip, right shoulder and spine.

Smith told police he had tried to grab a paper which had blown out in the street when the car, without lights, bore down on him in the murky light of early dawn. The driver flashed his lights on just before striking him, Smith said, then turned off the lights and sped away.

Buttimer, 58, and David Orr, 70, both of Centre st., Newton, unconscious on the kitchen floor, burns covering much of their chests and faces.

They were taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for preliminary treatment and then transferred to Newton-Wellesley Hospital, where doctors said both suffered flash burns and shock. Most seriously hurt was Buttimer, whose burns covered his right side, shoulder and head.

Police said the bakers opened the shop at 4 a. m., and Buttimer tried unsuccessfully to light the main oven to do the morning's batch of bread.

HURLED 20 FEET

Five minutes later he applied another match, and accumulated gas exploded with a force that hurled him back 20 feet across the floor. Orr, standing nearby, was lifted over a table and dropped on the other side by the concussion.

Several residents of the area telephoned police, some asking if there had been an earthquake.

Officers found that three windows in the bakery, each 4 by 8 feet, had been shattered. The iron top and rear section of the oven were blown against the wall, and cooking utensils and other equipment were sent flying like topkins.

4 New Haven Wins 15 Pc Fare Hike, Commuters Excluded

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized increases in first class passengers fares on western railroads and in passenger coach fares on the New Haven railroad.

The increase effective on all lines operating west of the Mississippi river amounts to 6.06 per cent for travel in sleeping and parlor cars.

This brings these charges even with the rate schedules authorized for first class travel in the East last June.

In New York, a spokesman for the New Haven said that the increase, which does not affect commuter fares, would be put into effect around the middle of December.

The coach fare increase granted to the New Haven involves a 15 per cent hike over the present coach rate of 2.5 cents per mile raising the rate to 2.875 cents a mile.

60 ROADS WIN INCREASE

The New Haven railroad was included among the 60 Eastern carriers which were permitted to increase both coach and Pullman fares an average of 10 per cent last summer.

The ICC subsequently authorized a temporary general 10 per cent increase in freight rates for all railroads. The roads are now seeking a 30 per cent permanent raise in the freight schedules.

The New Haven railroad told the commission several weeks ago, however, that while the freight rate increases would be helpful to its financial position, it is largely a passenger carrying line and that it would require a further revision in passenger charges to meet increased operating expenses.

WESTERN ROADS AFFECTED

In both cases acted upon today, ICC authorized increases to be made effective on five days notice to the public. Coach fares in the west, now 2.5 cents per mile, are not affected by the first class travel charge changes.

The western railroads which also based their plea for an increase on rising costs are now authorized to:

Increase the basic one-way passenger fare in standard sleeping and parlor cars from 3.5 cents to approximately 3.5 cents per mile, with proportionate increases in round-trip fares and excess baggage rates which are figured on the basic rate.

To increase basic one-way fares in tourist sleeping cars from 2.75 to 3 cents per mile, with proportionate increases in round trip rates.

Drive Against Reds Sneaking Into U. S. Set

By JAMES LEE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (INS)

—A State Department official disclosed today that illegal entry of Communist agents into the United States has reached alarming proportions and that an all-out drive to crack down on such aliens is being launched.

Robert C. Alexander of the State Department's visa division announced that within the very near future a conference of all interested agencies is to be held in Washington to implement procedure for rounding up Russian agents.

Fail to Identify Pay Holdup Suspect

Samuel S. Granito, 41, Brooklyn, brought back on a warrant charging armed robbery in the $110,000 Sturtevant Blower Co. payroll holdup last Oct. 30, refused to answer any questions in the headquarters lineup today. He was viewed by 13 witnesses to the stickup.

But none of the eight women and five men were able to identify Granito as one of the five involved in the stickup. They pointed out the men they had seen in the Hyde Park plant had been masked.

Later he was arraigned on the armed robbery charge before Judge Daniel W. Casey, claimed examination and asked for an immediate hearing.

At the request of police officials, he was ordered held in $25,000 double sureties and his case continued until tomorrow.

Cases of two other men, Joseph Bellino, 39, of Newark, N. J., and Anthony Pino, 33, of Kennebec st., Dorchester, previously arrested in the case, are due to come up on continuances tomorrow.

Granito, brought back to Boston, Saturday, by Lt. James V. Crowley after waiving extradition, gave his occupation as a seaman and said he lived in South Third st., Brooklyn.

"What are you here for?" Crowley asked.

"On the advice of counsel, I refuse to answer," Granito replied.

Lt. Crowley then turned to the officers present and said:

"This man is being held in connection with a robbery last Oct. 30, at 8:17 a. m., when five men held up the Sturtevant Co. paymaster in Hyde Park. There were nine men in all concerned in the holdup and the money has been divided among them."

"This man was identified in New York City felony court as one of the holdup men. He waived extradition, Saturday, after he previously had fought it."

Anna May Wong, 14 Months, Pawn In Custody Fight

Anna May Wong, namesake of but not a relative of the famous Oriental silent screen star, was in Probate Court here today, just 14 months old and thus happily unaware she is the pawn of an adoption fight involving a Chinese couple, a Chinese waiter who claims to be her father and his white wife, a young Maine woman.

A birth certificate from Boothbay Harbor, Me., states Anna is the offspring of the former Matilda Mary Thorndike, 22, Wiscasset, Me., and Ne: Gee Wong, 26, waiter in a Tyler st., restaurant.

But the petition for adoption brought by Chin Wedong and his wife, Chin Mak Shee, both of Hudson st., alleges Ne: Gee Wong is not the father of the child. Wong, disputing their contention, was in court, ready to prove his claim and opposing adoption.

The Chins state they have the mother's permission to seek adoption of Anna.

U. S. Fights Reich, Korea Money Marts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—The United States, determined not to let lack of an agreement with Russia worsen inflationary trends in Germany and Korea, has printed new currency for use in the American zones of both those occupied countries.

While the decision for coping with black market money troubles confronting American military government authorities on both sides of the world was reached weeks ago, it was kept a top secret because of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in London.

There was no public announcement, but government authorities privately confirmed the action.

OUTLAW OLD BILLS

In the case of Germany, a new currency for the U. S. occupation zone would make it possible to outlaw large quantities of money Russia printed from plates supplied by this country in 1944.

A Senate committee which investigated the circumstances behind this money heard testimony last June that some $350,000,000 worth of the Russian-printed bills were redeemed at face value in dollars up to 1945.

No date has been set for issuing the new currency. Nor was there any disclosure as to whether it would circulate in the British and French zones of western Germany, as well as the American zone.

BRITAIN CONCURS

The decision to print the new currency was said to have been reached after conferences with the British, whose zone in Germany was merged economically with this country's last Jan. 1.

The U. S.-licensed Berlin newspaper Der Abend said recently that Russia, without consulting the Western powers, already had completed technical preparations for a change of currency in the Soviet zone of eastern Germany.

In any event, the new American move apparently presages a revaluation of both the German mark and the Korean won. Black market rates of each have fallen far below the valuations fixed by agreement among the wartime allies.

Help Wanted (But Shapely) For British Nudist Colony

By FRED DOERFLINGER

LONDON, Dec. 8 (INS)—British nudists are looking for smart and shapely servants for their nudist club at Metherell Towers, Devon County—the only catch is they have to work in the nude. London's Sunday Pictorial reported that the North Devon nudist club has advertised in a Danish magazine that the club "requires smart young girl nudists, Danish, Norwegian, Swedish or Austrian, to work as waitresses and maids at the club in the summer of 1948. Good figures essential."

The club has been closed since October—Devon gets little if any snow but winter winds are more than nipping—but will reopen at Easter.

A sixty-year-old caretaker-gardener known only as "Tom" looks after the solitary residence, Metherell Towers, a lonely mansion set in 20 acres of beautiful woodland. Although Tom has been there three years he is definitely "not a nudist, no sir."

"I carry on mowing the lawns or pushing my wheelbarrow among them as though they were not there."

Today only two families are living in the grounds—in trailers.

THEIR HOME BURNED—Mrs. Sophie Glazier and her daughter, Ruth (left), stand with firemen outside their home in Wales st., Dorchester, which was swept by fire, routing six families. Heroine of the blaze was Sylvia Winick, 23, who carried her bedridden father, Morris, down three flights of stairs to the street.

'Miss Hush' Prize Winner Doesn't Worry About Tax

FT. WORTH, Tex., Dec. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Annette Subbie, 47, began inventory today of her estimated $20,000 harvest in prizes as winner of the "Miss Hush" radio program contest—and a possible $5000 income tax bill from the government.

Europe Aid Unit Opens Hub Branch

The New England Committee for the Marshall Plan to Aid European Recovery, under leadership of Henry Parkman of Boston, today opened headquarters at 25 Faneuil Hall sq., opposite the historic Cradle of Liberty, and began establishing local committees in every city and town in New England.

The major function of the New England Committee and its subdivision will be the dissemination of information on the Marshall Plan, to encourage citizens to impress on Congress the importance of providing aid and a sound program of recovery for distressed Europe.

Business and labor leaders and outstanding citizens from all parts of the nation are serving on the National Committee for the Marshall Plan, of which the New England Committee is a subdivision.

VICTIMS OF SLASHER—Mr. and Mrs. Yari Kaderian, of Watertown, console each other after he had been slugged and she was stabbed in the left shoulder by an unknown assailant in a downtown restaurant. The attacker, who also stabbed Kaderian's brother, Ralph, had been using improper language in the restaurant. The trio remonstrated. He whipped out a knife and started slashing it at them. The stabbing victims were treated at City Hospital.

"But I don't mind paying that much to the government," the housewife said when informed that the internal revenue bureau figured taxes would take about a quarter of her winnings.

Mrs. Subbie won the contest by correctly naming "Miss Hush" as dancer Martha Graham in response to a telephone call from Ralph Edwards, master of ceremonies on the "Truth or Consequences" program, Saturday night.

During the contest more than 700,000 letters were received. Entrants told in 25 words or less why "We should all support the March of Dimes." Writers of the three best letters each week were telephoned and given a chance to identify "Miss Hush." Edwards estimated contributions accompanying the entrant letters totaled $350,000.

Mrs. Subbie's first rewards appeared yesterday. She, her two daughters, a son and her husband, C. T. Subbie, traveling salesman for an oil well servicing company, were fitted for a suit and topcoat. Next, the family watched as she was presented with a two-seated Luscombe Silhouette plane.

Her son, Casimir, was an Air Force pilot in the war.

Other gifts to be presented include a trip to Honolulu, a $1500 fur coat and a house trailer.

Mrs. Subbie has been an ardent participant in contests for 17 years. In previous contests she won a round trip to San Francisco and a $100 cash prize.

In Washington, internal revenue spokesmen said the decision of Mrs. Subbie to share her winnings with members of the family did not alter the fact that the prizes are to be regarded as income to her, and therefore taxable.

Under Texas law, the income of a married couple is divided equally between them for taxation purposes. The estimate of $5000 taxes was based on the assumption that other income of the couple would take care of their exemptions, an internal revenue official said.

Texas has no state income tax.

Second Waltham Store Safe Stolen

Professional safecrackers were being sought by Waltham police today after a small safe was stolen from a market in Moody st., almost a duplicate of a similar job in a chain market in the same street less than 36 hours earlier.

Latest victim of thieves was the Commonwealth Market where they gained entrance through a rear window and cased off a safe containing $400. Early Saturday, a safe containing $3300 was taken out of the First National Store and carried away in a stolen delivery truck, found abandoned in Framingham. The safe was later found in Providence.

Cambridge Manager Bares Hartford Offer

City Manager John B. Atkinson of Cambridge, who has received $15,000 a year since 1942 as administrative head of the city's Plan E form of government, announced today he is considering a similar post in Hartford, Ct., paying $15,000 to $25,000 a year.

He added: "I have not received a raise since 1942, although all the other employees of the city have received from 40 per cent to 50 per cent in raises." Regarding rumors he may be ousted by the city council next month, he vowed, "I will not resign under fire."

Miss Day, whose marriage to the articulate baseball man has been beset by many adverse influences from without, announced she has canceled her six-year contract with RKO studios so she can be with Durocher, newly-reinstated manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, during the coming major league baseball season.

The beauteous actress did not disclose how much the contract would have netted her. One movie columnist set the figure arbitrarily at $1,000,000 and the way film salaries run, that doesn't seem much out of line.

"I'll follow these Dodgers as long as Leo is with them," reporters were told by Miss Day.

Until her romance with Durocher, she had professed not the slightest interest in baseball. She said her plans included accompanying Durocher to the Dodgers' training camp about March 1.

"There'll be no pictures during the baseball season," said the actress, adding she might accept some film commitments during the winter.

She disclosed that she and Durocher plan to be married again Jan. 22, the day after her divorce from airport executive Ray Hendricks becomes final.

Her marriage to Durocher after a supplementary Mexican divorce incurred a Los Angeles judge's ire and led to judicial censure and the ultimatum that they'd better not live together in California until the local decree was final.

Leo arrived here from New York, and Miss Day greeted him at the airport.

New Storm Gives Hub Rain, Slush

Overcoats, raincoats and umbrellas were today's dress accessories as a new storm, driving eastward from Wisconsin, brought rain to Greater Boston and most of southern New England, turning snow-covered highways and byways into quagmires of slush.

Temperatures which the weather forecaster said would mount into the middle 50's during the day augmented the slushy conditions, to be followed by a sharp drop tonight to about 26 degrees, whipped by brisk winds.

Thousands of motorists were caught unprepared by last night's storm advance, with steel freezing on highways and windshields. Driving was particularly treacherous in the Berkshires.

Scores of minor accidents were reported from all sections.

At least a dozen persons were treated at City Hospital for injuries suffered in falls on icy pavements.

Leo Curley Raps Kretschmar Criticism of Parking Meters

As the Boston City Council met today to consider authorizing purchase of 5000 parking meters, Traffic Comr. Leo F. Curley blasted criticism of the project by Robert Kretschmar of the Boston Automobile Club.

The young commissioner noted that the meters would be used first in outlying areas to discourage all-day parking, and that some would be timed for two hours as well as for one hour at the rate of five cents per hour.

He said no meters would be installed intown until off-street parking facilities are completed at a cost of $5,000,000. If the council authorizes the 5000 meters sought, he said, the commission plans to purchase less than 2000 at once.

He concluded, "If Mr. Kretschmar had come to us on the traffic commission months ago, we could have saved him all the time and effort he put into his letter to the City Council."

"Of his suggestions, most of them were decided upon months ago by the traffic commission, not by the City Council. The other suggestions are either illegal or senseless."

Woman Worker, 3 Men Held In Attleboro Jewelry Theft

ATTLEBORO, Dec. 8—A 26-year-old mother and three men were arraigned in District Court here today on charges of larceny of jewelry from Swank, Inc., and their cases were all continued until Dec. 18 after police disclosed investigation into the thefts of more than $5000 worth of costume jewelry from the factory is continuing.

Mrs. Rita Provost, 26, of James ct., this town, mother of one child, pleaded not guilty to larceny of $155.25 worth of jewelry which police claim to have recovered at her home. The woman, a checker and wrapper in the shipping room was ordered held on bonds of $200.

Lionel Banville, 23, of County st., Fall River, an export shipper, pleaded guilty to larceny of $57 worth of merchandise. He was held on $500 for disposition of his case.

Leonard Costa, 19, of Howard st., Fall River, a shipping clerk, pleaded innocent to theft of $68 worth of the pins, clips and other pieces. He was held on $500 bail. Gilbert Morrisette, 20, of Earl st., Fall River, another shipping clerk, was also held on $500 after pleading not guilty to theft of $22 worth of jewelry from his employer.

Inspectors Howard O'Hare and Alfred DeLutis said a large part of the loot was found in the homes of some of those under arrest, and more will be recovered from operators of retail stores named by the prisoners as recipients of the loot.

Police said thefts have occurred for the past several months at the plant, one of the largest in the city. Some of the jewelry was stolen with the intention of giving it as Christmas gifts, they said.

War Crimes Trial of Krupp Opens

NUERNBERG, Dec. 8 (AP)—The American prosecution today opened the war crimes trial of the House of Krupp, Germany's top gun makers for nearly 150 years, who are charged with having cooperated with the Nazis in waging aggressive war.

The Krupp combine, which supplied the Kaiser and Bismarck with arms for their wars, also "assisted both with its money and its prestige in the establishment of Hitler's authority and dictatorship of the Third Reich," Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, chief counsel for war crimes declared in the prosecution opening statement.

The main Krupp defendant is Alfred Krupp von Bohlen und Halback, head of the armament dynasty since 1913. His father, Gustav Krupp, will not be tried because he has been pronounced senile and ill.

Eleven of the company's chief officials also on trial are:

Ewald Loeser, Eduard Houdremont, Erich Mueller, Friedrich Janssen, Karl Pirsch, Max Ihn, Karl Eberhardt, Heinrich Korschun, Friedrich von Buelow, Werner Lehmann and Hans Kupke.

All Strikes Outlawed By New Greek Law

ATHENS, Dec. 8 (AP)—All strikes were outlawed in Greece today under Parliament-approved legislation which authorizes military courts to impose penalties on violators ranging from six months imprisonment to death. The legislation, sought by the government to cope with the emergency facing the nation, will remain in effect until the Leftist rebellion in northern Greece has been crushed.

Australia Reduces Imports From U. S.

CANBERRA, Australia, Dec. 8 (AP)—Prime Minister J. B. Chifley said tonight that imports of U. S. tobacco leaf and motor vehicle chassis will be reduced and other restrictions imposed to save dollar exchange.

After Jan. 1, the 1948 remittances of earnings by American firms in Australia will be limited to half of the 1946 base year quota.

Blade Stays in Victim Of Louis Bout Row

DANBURY, Ct., Dec. 8 (AP)—

Physicians at Danbury Hospital reported that an X-ray examination had disclosed a knife blade embedded in the right shoulder of Tom Moffit, 30, who was admitted Friday.

Police Chief George J. Schoen said an alarm had been broadcast for the arrest of Charles Andrews, 63, whom Moffit named as his assailant. Chief Schoen said Moffit and Andrews were among a group gathered to listen to the Louis-Walcott fight, and the stabbing climaxed an argument about the decision.

Strive to Solve Infant Death Puzzle

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 8 (AP)—Authorities continued their investigation today into the death of the 16-day-old son of Lawrence H. Hackenberg, vice chairman of the State Pardon and Parole Commission and former secretary to

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

Sheriff Ralph J. Paul said the infant, whose name had not been chosen, apparently was injured early yesterday while his parents slept nearby in their apartment. He termed circumstances surrounding the baby's death unusual.

Paul said Mrs. Hackenberg gave the following account of the tragedy:

She awakened about 3 a. m. to see another son, Lawrence Jr., 3, carrying the baby by the heels.

"Mommy, I got baby brother," she said Lawrence, Jr., told her.

Observing the infant was injured, she roused her husband and they rushed the baby to University Hospital. Oxygen was administered about 15 minutes before he was pronounced dead.

Coroner Mitchell A. Spyger performed an autopsy but withheld a verdict.

Jap Admits Singapore Attack With Pearl Harbor

TOKYO, Dec. 8 (AP)—Former Navy Minister Shigetarō Shimada acknowledged in the International War Crimes Court today that Japan attacked without warning in the Singapore area on the same day of her surprise strike at Pearl Harbor.

"This is a matter concerning which I feel only the profoundest regret," Shimada, one of 25 Japanese leaders now on trial, told the court. "By some accident," he added, "operations against the Singapore area began ahead of schedule."

5 Maine Cities Hold Elections

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 8 (AP)—With two opponents—he never had more than one before—Louis B. Lausier seeks nomination today to his eighth successive term as Mayor of Maine's chief democratic stronghold, the textile city of Biddeford.

Four other cities, Westbrook, Hallowell, Old Town and Eastport, elect officers. Only Westbrook's balloting provides a test of partisan strength.

Lausier, a lawyer and theater operator, is opposed by Albert C. Lambert, automobile dealer and George C. Landry, former council chairman.

Seek to Identify Skeleton As Missing Webster Vet

EAST DOUGLAS, Dec. 8—Dr. Alan R. Moritz, state police pathologist, was conducting tests today in an effort to establish identity of the fully clothed man found Saturday by two hunters.

Police Chief Maxine Millette of Webster believes the skeleton may be that of Louis Socha, 58, of Webster who disappeared after attending wedding June 7. Millette said GI cot shoes and other apparel on the skeleton match descriptions of the clothing worn by Socha when last seen.

DIAMOND MERCHANTS FOR 53 YEARS

Vital Outlays Called Bar To Tax Cuts

Special to the Boston American
NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Prospects for a tax cut for the average American citizen in 1948 appear slim, according to an article by Edward Maher in the December issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine.

Although hope had been entertained that the presidential election year of 1948 would see some reduction of the taxpayers' burden, these hopes are rapidly dwindling, Maher states.

"When you compare the current and prospective spending of our present administration with federal pre-war spending, you get the impression that the so-called extravagance of the New Deal was frugality itself and Franklin D. Roosevelt was rather a slow man with a dollar," he writes.

"As a matter of fact, government expenses this year soar far above wartime predictions of our postwar budget level which, at the time they were issued, seemed hysterical."

But before the average voter rushes out to denounce the federal spenders, he should ask himself these questions, according to the article:

"Is he willing to take a chance on a smaller Army, Navy, and Air Force? Is he willing to let Europe and the rest of the world go hang? Does he think the veteran has got all he's entitled to, and more? Does he want Congress to repeal ruthlessly whole volumes of social, economic, and benefit legislation?"

"More than a few taxpayers would shout a forefretful 'Yes' to any or all of these questions, but there are many others who would say 'No.'"

UN Hands-Off Policy Seen On Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 8 (AP)—Chief interest at United Nations headquarters today was whether any member nation of the Security Council might initiate discussion of the current wave of violence in Palestine when the 11-nation council meets tomorrow afternoon.

Many UN observers expressed doubt that the Palestine question would receive any more than formal recognition when the council convenes for its scheduled meeting.

When the delegates meet for their first session since adjournment of the General Assembly Nov. 29, they are slated to receive a routine UN communication notifying them of the assembly's decision to partition the Holy Land into separate Arab and Jewish countries.

SEE HANDS OFF

There were signs the UN itself would maintain a hands-off attitude for the present regarding the disturbances which have occurred in Palestine since adoption of the partition plan.

When Sec. Gen. Trygve Lie was asked at his weekly press conference whether the UN had taken official notice of the outbreaks, his top Russian aide, Arkady A. Sobolev, took up the question.

"Don't forget," he said, "There is still an administering power in Palestine."

LOOK TO BRITAIN

His reply was interpreted as an indication that the UN would look to Britain, the mandatory power, to maintain law and order until British troops leave the Holy Land.

During the assembly debate on Palestine, Britain declared she would terminate the mandate at an early date and be solely responsible for the maintenance of law and order as long as the mandate remained in force. The mandate will remain in effect until Britain terminates it.

Drivers of 3 Taxi Firms Quit In Ft. Wayne

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Dec. 8 (AP)—Taxicab service came to a halt in Fort Wayne when drivers voted unanimously to strike against the city's three cab companies.

The drivers, members of Local 414, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, had asked an increase in the commission on fares collected from 4 1/2 per cent to 4 3/4 per cent and an increase in the daily minimum guarantee from $7.50 to $8.50.

YOUNG VS. OLD

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (INS)—A 25-year-old Chicago woman held a divorce from her husband today because she claimed he preferred antiques to her.

Mrs. Redie Sapraneck told the court that when her husband, Edward, 37, a clerk, persisted in bringing home antiques, she warned him:

"If you don't stop bringing home all that junk, I'm going to divorce you."

Marshall Joins Bevin, Bidault In Reich Parley

LONDON, Dec. 8 (AP)—State Sec. Marshall's office said today that he had conferred with both the British and French foreign ministers last night on the eve of today's showdown session with Russia over German economic unity.

Marshall saw British Foreign Sec. Bevin and France's George Bidault in what apparently was an effort to consolidate the Western position prior to meeting this afternoon with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

Up to this point Marshall aides always have reported that he carefully avoided any evidence of being-the-scenes collaboration with the three western powers.

Marshall saw Bevin and Bidault simultaneously, lending strong support to speculation that he disclosed to them the course he intends to follow.

FEET AT EMBASSY
The meeting was held at the American embassy shortly after Marshall gave a reception for members of the American delegation.

American diplomats expressed conviction that today's meeting would open a week of decision for the conference. Some said one session might be adequate to show whether there would be any chance of Russian-Western agreement on Germany.

Soviet Minister Molotov, however, appeared to be ready with a new move of his own—a long-expected demand that a German delegation chosen by the Communist-sponsored "German People's Congress" in Berlin be given a hearing by the Big Four on its views on Germany's future.

PLEASED AT RESULT
On the western side a tightening of French policy on Germany with that of America and Britain was indicated with the return here from Paris of John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to State Sec. Marshall.

Dulles said the result of his trip, during which he conferred with French government leaders and Gen. Charles de Gaulle, was most satisfactory. He is expected to detail his findings to Marshall and the American delegation at once.

Chanukah Rites Mark Second Day

Special prayers were offered in synagogues and temples of Greater Boston today as a single lighted candle in homes and religious centers signalled the start of the second day of the eight-day celebration of Chanukah.

A second candle will be lighted tonight and on each successive night of the "Feast of Lights" until eight burning candles on the final night conclude the joyous celebration of the victory of Israelites over Syrians in the Holy Land 2100 years ago. The strife was over religious freedom and lasted three years.

The Hebrew celebration also was observed at St. Paul's Cathedral, where candles were lighted in a huge candelabra on the porch. At noon today, Dean Van Etten spoke on "A Christian Looks at Chanukah."

Miss Truman Hailed in Denver

DENVER, Dec. 8 (AP)—Margaret Truman, daughter of the President, received a cordial reception last night from music critics and an audience of nearly 3000 in her first concert presentation in Denver.

Music critic Jack Gaskie of the Rocky Mountain News reported Miss Truman "needed more training," but praised her presentation of French folk songs.

A Denver Post critic, Cecil Effinger, also praised her rendition of the folk songs but described her voice as more suited to the intimate or chamber music type of concert.

"She has a pleasing voice," Effinger said, "but lacks that necessary extra measure of gift which is purely a physical matter."

Miss Truman returned for three encores following the hour-long concert.

Miss Truman was scheduled to leave by train today for an appearance at Milwaukee.

Her tour will continue until Christmas, the President's daughter said, after which she has no definite plans.

1,000,000 Yards of Cloth Given by Mills to Europe

CHARLOTTE, S. C., Dec. 8 (AP)—American textile mills contributed 1,000,000 yards of cloth to Europe's destitute women and children under a program recently launched by the American Cotton Manufacturers Ass'n. It was announced at organization headquarters.

The association said the total of cloth so far donated is roughly equivalent to yardage needed to make 400,000 women's dresses.

Tito, Hungary Sign
Armed Aid Pact

BUDAPEST, Dec. 8 (AP)—Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and Premier Lajos Dinnyes of Hungary signed today a treaty of friendship and mutual military assistance.

Neither premier made any comment after affixing his name to the pact, but attending officials of both governments applauded briefly.

Tito, who signed a 20-year military assistance pact with Bulgaria last month, is expected to proceed to Romania later this week to complete a four-power security bloc in southeastern Europe.

Holdup Suspect Says He's Kin of Ex-N.Y. Police Head

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (INS)—Leonard W. Valentine, 22, of nephew of the late police Comm. Lewis Valentine, was arrested today as he attempted to hold up a Brooklyn tavern.

Police said the holdup was stymied by a quick-thinking bartender, Kirby Alesky, who disregarded a warning of "There's a .38 in my pocket" to knock out Valentine as he was about to scoop the money from the cash register.

GUSTAF KING 40 YEARS

Navajo Indian Suit Will Ask U.S. Funds to Balk Starvation

By DAN MARKEL

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Suit against the federal government for callous violation of its treaties with the starving Navajo Indians will be brought by Norman M. Littell, chief counsel for the tribe, the attorney announced.

Between $30,000,000 and $50,000,000 will be asked, Littell indicated, adding that any monetary amount "will be inadequate to repair the damages to the Navajo Indians, living and dead."

Littell urged immediate passage of a $2,000,000 relief appropriation for Navajo and Hopi Indians, as proposed in a bill now before Congress, but warned that it would only provide stopgap aid.

Unless the measure is quickly enacted, "death from cold and hunger will stalk the Navajo reservation this winter," he declared.

U. S. BROKE PROMISES

It will, however, only "erect a temporary bridge from the desperate plight to which the Navajos have been reduced by the government's violations of its treaty of 1866," Littell supplemented.

"In that treaty the government promised to provide one teacher for each 50 children.

"It never at any time did so.

HERDS REDUCED

"Even today 16,000 out of 24,000 Navajo children of school age have no school available of any kind. The Navajos arrive in the year 1948 with only 10 per cent of them able to speak English, or to move with any security whatever in the surrounding white man's world.

"Under former Commissioner of Indian Affairs John Collier, commencing in 1934, flocks of sheep and goats totaling approximately 1,200,000 head were suddenly and forcibly cut down to about 600,000."

As a result of the bureaucratic butchery of Navajo flocks, the Navajo reservation today is undergrazed, with forage available for at least 100,000 additional sheep or goats, Littell asserted.

Legion Head Deplores Unlearned Pearl Harbor Lesson

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 8 (AP)—James F. O'Neil, national commander of the American Legion, asserted the greatest tragedy of Pearl Harbor is that the U. S. "has not learned anything from it."

O'Neil spoke at an Ohio commanders' and adjutants' conference signaling the kickoff of a Legion campaign to have Congress enact universal military training next year.

He called upon Legionnaires to obtain 10,000,000 signatures on petitions for the training bill, and described Sen. Robert A. Taft (R.) of Ohio, as the "No. 1 opponent of UMT in Congress."

"The real blame for Pearl Harbor," O'Neil said, "lies with the American people. Pearl Harbor was the result of national apathy toward any and every measure for American preparedness."

"Pearl Harbor, too, was the result of our appeasement efforts toward Japan, but the greatest tragedy of Pearl Harbor was that we have not learned anything from it."

"The No. 1 opponent of UMT in Congress is Sen. Taft of Ohio . . . (and he) certainly has displayed his lack of knowledge of UMT when he says its adoption would be provocative to war. Every major country in the world except the U. S. and Canada today has UMT or some form of compulsory military service."

CHARTER OF FREEDOM

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, DEC. 8, 1947

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE have set aside the period Dec. 9 to 15 to commemorate and honor that portion of the Constitution which is known as the Bill of Rights.

It was felt, on ratification of the Constitution, that certain inalienable human rights had not been properly safeguarded.

James Madison, therefore, introduced ten amendments which clearly and definitely defined and protected those rights.

Those fundamental rights and liberties were recognized by the founding fathers as having a higher source and authority than any system of government.

The intent and meaning of the Bill of Rights, indeed, is that these liberties derive directly from the will of God, and are not to be abrogated, suspended or curtailed by any government.

It is instead the function of government and law to protect and perpetuate them.

THERE IS PERHAPS no better evidence of the tremendous importance of the Bill of Rights to human liberty, than the determined and sustained attacks that modern doctrines and systems of despotism are directing against it.

Government by dictation finds an insuperable barrier to its ambitions in the clauses of the Bill of Rights that stipulate freedom of worship, speech, petition and assembly.

The police state cannot exist as long as the Bill of Rights specifies trial by jury, prohibits arbitrary search and seizure, and outlaws cruel and unusual punishments.

The Bill of Rights, in essence, recognizes and incorporates in our fundamental law, that the state is the SERVANT of the people to the extent and in the manner that the people decide, and never the servants of a government whose only law is its own will.

THAT IS THE ESSENTIAL DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DEMOCRACY AND TYRANNY.

No wonder then that in the past generation of war, economic convulsions and revolution, the advocates of rule by regimentation, military force, economic extortion, or social oppression should identify and cunningly besiege the central stronghold of American freedom which is the Bill of Rights.

No wonder that the full weight of their casuistry, their wildest stratagems and the constant pressure of bureaucratic control has been directed to weaken the people's faith in the charter of their liberty.

And no wonder, as well, that an appalling number of people have been misled to accept, under various apparently innocuous labels, venomous concepts which would inevitably result in a debasement of democracy and an abjuration of the will of God.

NEVER BEFORE has it been so acutely necessary that the American people recognize and defeat the machinations of influential, persuasive, ambitious and unscrupulous men who, under one pretext or another, would raise themselves to power by luring them to default or neglect the protection of the Bill of Rights.

It is our strong and invulnerable shield against political quackery and nostrums at home; against the insidious poison of alien perversions of justice and wisdom.

By our firm attachment to the Bill of Rights, by our comprehension of the spirit and letter of its law, by our clear recognition of its source in the moral and spiritual truth that derives from the Divine Power, we can guarantee not only our liberties but the dignity and integrity of a nation conceived in freedom and not subject to the dictation of ruthless men.

Let us, therefore, solemnly and proudly share in the observances of Bill of Rights Week.

Let us confirm and re-dedicate our faith in the principles by which we exist in freedom.

And let us victoriously repudiate whoever and whatever seeks to disparage and weaken our fundamental law as a God-fearing and liberty-loving nation.

If you do love as well as I
Then, every minute from your heart

A thought doth part
And winged with desire doth fly

A thought of mine.
May you then often think of me
And by that thinking know
'tis true
I thought of you.

—HERBERT

"HER VOICE was sweet and low, an excellent thing in woman," wrote that greatest of all time, W. Shakespeare. How right Bill was! Recently a number of business men were asked what trait of a secretary irritated them most. The majority answered a secretary with a "loud, shrill or squeaky voice" was the greatest source of irritation. If you want to do your young daughter a favor that will greatly aid her future, send her to a voice teacher who will aid her to talk in tones that are "sweet and low."

NEW LOOK: The "new look" continues to occupy the feminine mind so much that at social gatherings a man can't get a word in edge wise about such interesting subjects as Wendy Hiller's acting, what horse is going to win the Santa Anita handicap and the abundance of the supply of Scotch for the Christmas season. I am weary of hearing about the "new look." It seems to me the geniuses who combined their talents to bring this style about had the brilliant idea of getting the "have-nots" among females on more equal terms with the "haves." That is, the women who have not highly symmetrical limbs, streamlined hips and so on now have a chance to look nearly as well as those who have.

MULES & MEN: Too many young women concentrate on getting a certain man, but spend too little time in studying the character of the man. They are after. Therefore, from time to time, our Mules & Men experts will toss out a few hints on the study of the male character for the benefit of bachelorette subscribers. It is said if a man ties a four-in-hand in a snail knot it reveals he is neat and methodical but inclined to be a little mean and too thrifty. If the tie is in a big knot cere lessly made;

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 8

Susanna Foster, who is studying music in New York, is coming right back to Universal-International, and her co-starring partner will be the queen of the ice, Sonja Henie. Yet the two girls will be co-starred in "Countess of Monte Cristo," Susanna's first independent production. She's making it for Westwood Productions, which in spite of the fancy name, means it is a U-I movie with John Beck producing.

Sonja is now on her skating tour and she is churning up. Everyone who wants to see her.

Yester girl has a gorgeous voice. I suppose she'll sing while Sonja skates, or vice versa.

THE LIFE of Manolo, Spain's greatest bull fighter before his tragic death, is being sought by Gilbert Roland. Gilbert leaves for Spain in a few months to get Manolo's mother's signature on the motion picture rights.

Sentiment will be on Gilbert's side in getting this permission. His father, Paquita, and Manolo's father, were the closest of friends and their friendship was carried on by their sons. The last time Gilbert saw Manolo fight, the great matador tossed the bulls ear to him—highest compliment to a spectator.

Roland will both produce and star in the film, and although he has no definite release, it will probably be Monogram, the studio where he is now making "Tenderfoot."

ALTHOUGH GREG BAUTZER, attorney for Maria Montez, refused to confirm the amount she received in her case against Universal-International, I am told it was $50,000.

It is the first time a restraining order has ever been given a star in America in the case of billing. Once before it was given to an English actor, Maria sued because Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.'s name was billed above hers in "The Exile."

It would have cost U-I a lot of money if they hadn't settled, because publicity and advertising posters would have had to be re-made.

THE LOS ANGELES police department reports a marked drop in juvenile arrests during the latter part of 1947—and the reason should make Lou Costello and Bud Abbott happy, indeed.

Their youth foundation center, where kids play and have wholesome recreation, is, according to police, a big factor in the decrease in teen-age arrests. That is a fine thing.

Come on, everybody—particularly you people who make big weekly salaries—sit down and write a check to help support the center. Bud and Lou are about at the end of their financial rope, carrying the load alone. They have spent $180,000 of their own money.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: Edmund O'Brien and Olga San Juan are engaged. That's definite—but they are not eloping over the week-end as was rumored.

Said Edmund, "I'm busy on 'Another Part of the Forest,' working every day, and I don't know how I could get away long enough to have a wedding and a honeymoon. But we'll get married soon, after I finish my picture."

Olga is the little girl who said she came from Peru.

PEGGY ANN GARNER has been offered an important part in the Theater Guild's "A Member of the Wedding." If she accepts I prophesy Peggy Ann will be another June Lockhart on Broadway.

I was amazed when I saw her in New York. How pretty she has become, and what a charming young girl!

She has just had a very successful week in "Kiss and Tell" in Reading, Pa., and is now heading back for Hollywood. She opens the infantile paralysis campaign here Jan. 12.

LIVING together, as happy as happy can be, in Fay McKenzie's New York apartment are Fay and her estranged husband, Stephen Cochran. Although she obtained her interlocutory decree, they didn't have to re-marry when they reconciled, because they were never divorced.

Fay is still in "Burlesque" and Steve is trying to get a play. If they are both busy in New York it may solve all their problems. It was the separation that caused the trouble.

IN Mexico City Diego Rivera, the artist, and Maria Felix, Mexico's top glamor star, are becoming an item. She has separated from her husband, Augustin Lara, the idol of Mexico because of his musical compositions, and is seen everywhere with the famous mural painter.

Rivera married Freida Kahlo in 1929, his third wife. They were divorced after 10 years and remarried in 1940. I hadn't heard whether or not they have separated again, but it looks like it.

EVE ARDEN has adopted a girl 2 months old. The little one was born in Hollywood just a week before Christmas and is intended as a Christmas surprise for Liza, Eve's 4-year-old daughter.

The little one will be called Constance, named for Mrs. Michael Rassetto, Eve's closest friend.

EVERY morning a batch of sonorous candidates comes in for an audition. One by one they mount the rostrum in front of the President pro tempore and give off in the way they hope are mellifluous tones. They read all the things the reading clerk has to do—the rollcall of Senators, bills about to come up for debate, amendments to bills, and amendments to amendments.

SENATORS, it seems, can't get along unless they're being read to. If the clerk does not read their names as being present they—presumably—would not know they were there. And they don't read their bills; they wouldn't know what was in them.

The candidates take the audition with deadly seriousness. The other morning, after upwards of 50 had engaged in the troyout, one approached Emory Frazier, who has been filling in, and asked for a couple of pointers.

"I understand you have to read stuff cold in this job without a chance to look it over first," he said. "What happens if you mispronounce a name?"

"I suppose it would all depend on whether anybody was paying attention," replied Mr. Frazier. "The other day I had to read a document from the mediation board. I called it the mediation board, and nobody knew the difference."

YOU MAY RECALL the case, a few weeks ago, of a playful airlines pilot, travelling as the third man in the cockpit to show a new pilot over the route, who caused a DC-4, carrying upwards of 50 passengers, suddenly to roll over on its back.

The huge ship was over El Paso, Texas, when the prankster, Charles Sisto, surprised the devil out of the pilot at the controls by pulling the gust lock which freezes the mechanism. The pilot, who wasn't strapped in, and many of the passengers were violently up-ended.

The airline permitted Sisto to resign. The Civil Aeronautics Administration then recommended to the Civil Aeronautics Board that the joker's license be revoked. The case was marked "closed."

But the playful Sisto, it develops, was only marking time until the hullabaloo blew over. Quietly—very quietly—he is now trying to bring pressure on the CAA to have his pilot's status restored.

If this great little kiddier is successful, please let me know what plane he is flying, will you, so I can take a train. In the air my sense of humor thins out with the altitude.

We didn't miss a punch that one Joe landed on the other Joe. And we thought Walcott won. He landed the most blows, inflicted the most damage, knocked down the other Joe twice . . . A TELEVISION SET for a cafe, tavern, hotel or night club costs $1100 to $1200, we are told. For your living room, a little under $250. Owners of cafes, etc., are installing them and so on in diverts. Patrons may have to pay the 20 percent cabaret tax on food and drinks served in a place of entertainment . . . Some cafe owners fear that groups of people will come in and inexpensively sip beer while seeing many dollars' worth of televised fights or ball games. Others say: "What the deuce! We'll install television, maybe make good friends." . . . Sooner or later you'll have it in your homes. Reception is crystal-clear. You are about to take a leap into the realm of entertainment thrills that stagger the imagination.

CARL BRISSON, the internationally celebrated singer, now at the Statler, tells us he made a 300-mile, over-water broadcast by television, from London to Stockholm, 20 years ago. The Duke of Windsor, then Prince of Wales, was on the receiving end at the British Exposition in Sweden . . . The broadcast, oddly enough, originated from Carl's former wine-cellar. He had sold his house to the British Broadcasting Co. which had erected its building on the spot . . . The man responsible for that broadcast was an inventor named Baird. When word was flashed back to the wine-cellar studio that it had been a success, Baird said he wanted to phone his wife to tell her the good news . . . The great inventor went to the telephone, studied it a few minutes, and returned to Carl, saying: "Please help me with this diat thing. I can't make head nor tail of the danged, new-fangled contraption."

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random:

Lorraine Walsh, ex-wife of Raoul Walsh, has gone to Florida to meet Fred Perry, tennis champ, and you may expect an announcement of their marriage any time.

The beautiful blonde with Tyrone Power at Ciro's was Marie Johnson.

Gail Russell and Richard Ney are becoming an item. Perhaps it's because both have been so romantically unhappy.

Gail Russell, a little Draper, who is in town, has not seen Otto Preminger since she arrived, but she has seen Ivan Goff, who is here, every day and it looks serious.

There's no truth in the rumor that Joe Breen, who has done such a fine job with the Johnston office, is retiring. His health is not good and he's gone on a trip to Sweden. Judge Stephen Jackson is in charge during Joe's absence.

I am very happy to say that three new papers are publishing my column, The Daily News, Palm Beach, Fla.; The Coast Georgian, Brunswick, Ga.; and the Journal-Sentinel, Hanford, Cal.

David Selznick was presented with the Order of the Brilliant Star by the Chinese government, at a reception sponsored by the United Service Club. He was one of 10 Americans thus honored by Wellington Koo, Chinese ambassador.

Ginny Simms is not well and is returning to the Coast as soon as possible.

June Lockhart's big moment is young Bernard Strauss, producer of her play.

Andy Russell undergoes a tonsillectomy in Hollywood between Christmas and New Year's. His throat is much swollen to operate on now.

George Jessel's heart throb in New York is Lynn Hogan, a carnival cutie.

Wonderful news that Irene Selznick's play, "Street Car Named Desire," has the biggest advance sale of any Broadway hit. She was given a big party by George Cukor after the play at "21" with all the Broadway theatrical circles and movie folk in New York attending. Everyone is happy for Irene.

Joe DiMaggio's pals will be happy to hear he'll be back in the ball field next year. The operation on his arm was a success. He arrives in San Francisco for the holidays.

Jack Lait, one of America's top newspaper writers and a great editor, is in town.

Duke Wales, of the Johnston office, is in the Valley Hospital recuperating from an operation. That's all today.

My Boston

A NEW LAW TO PROHIBIT JAYWALKING has been proposed (as you may have heard), by Rep. Gordon D. Boynton of the Back Bay. But why a new law? There's one already on the books that covers it . . . Patrolman Clark "Cy" Hyde arrested four persons for jaywalking at Washington and Bromfield sts., 25 years ago. The charge was "being a pedestrian and refusing to obey a police officer in his directions; to wit, jaywalking." Fines of $5 each were imposed in Municipal Court . . . We are sure you will be interested to know that Patrolman Hyde was a policeman only because he liked the work. Stuck to it, too, for 20 years. Before that he was a streetcar conductor, because he also liked that. "Cy" Hyde was, and is, wealthy.

HAVING ONCE been a traffic cop, "Cy" can't keep away from busy street corners. Now he's doing business at one of the busiest corners in the world: Boylston and Tremont. He is sole owner of the famous Touraine Hotel . . . He bought the hotel because his mother liked it and, when he was a boy, used to take him there for dinner . . . In her memory he established the Irene A. Hyde Memorial Clinic on the second floor. There his employees are treated free. Some day he may expand the clinic into a hospital at some other site . . . Because his mother and himself, Bostonians in general and, in fact, people all over the world, had liked the Touraine for half a century, "Cy" has spent $2,000,000 to make it modernly attractive, once again something for Boston to view with pride.

RECENTLY RETURNED from a study of famous hotels abroad, "Cy" has great plans for his hotel. Some $75,000 worth of silver bearing the Touraine crest of shield, crown, wreath and fleur-de-lis, has been hauled out of storage and is being refurbished . . . The Surrey Room will reopen New Year's Eve, with lacquered steel surreys (armchairs of small size) in favor. Soon afterward the room will be open for nightly dining, with dancing and entertainment . . . The Surrey Room will have its own chef and kitchen. And a radarange for fast cooking brown steaks, chicken, etc., among the diners with his little wagon of choice roasts. Boys will serve hot rolls from "bun warmers." The wine steward will be there wearing his traditional leather apron and with the key to the wine-cellar hanging on a huge chain from his neck . . . One innovation from abroad that has already been adopted: If you breakfast in your room, the waiter brings you an electric toaster, so your toast will be hot and just as brown as you like it. It's so popular, the Touraine has had to order more toasters.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—Well, I'll be a two-toed sloth! What d'ya suppose they're doing down in the Senate these gusty mornings? They're holding auditions.

The Senators aren't trying out for the Jimmy Durante program, although I know a couple who could probably make it if they'd only hold still long enough to be wheeled over the head with a bladder. The auditions are for the job of Senate reading clerk.

This vocal vocation is open for a good elocutionist because of the retirement of John Crockett, who quit after 40 years of service. Crockett didn't tell me why he retired but my guess is that he just got sleepy. A guy who has been reading Senators to sleep for 40 years probably feels he could use a little lullabying himself.

Every morning a batch of sonorous candidates comes in for an audition. One by one they mount the rostrum in front of the President pro tempore and give off in the way they hope are mellifluous tones. They read all the things the reading clerk has to do—the rollcall of Senators, bills about to come up for debate, amendments to bills, and amendments to amendments.

Fire Kills Seven In Family of Eight

MANSFIELD, O., Dec. 8 (AP).—Seven members of a family of eight died as the result of a fire which broke out while they slept in their second floor apartment over a store in the neighboring village of Greenwich.

Dead were Warnie Rice, 48; his wife, Stella, 43, and their children, Donald 18; Martha, 16; Robert, 14; Joe, 6, and Roy 4. Another son, Dewey, 21, and a half-brother of Rice Evert Ratliff, 25, escaped.

Ever said the father died in a vain rescue attempt after first making his way out of the burning building.

Abandoned R. I. Baby Beats Pneumonia Threat

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 8.—A three-month-old boy abandoned on the porch of a Vernon ave. home here was reported in good condition at Newport Hospital today after penicillin was administered to ward off danger of pneumonia. It was the second abandonment case in this state in a week. The other child was also a three-month-old boy.

Another Struck Paper Publishes

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Dec. 8 (AP)—Thirty-five members of the AFL-International Typographical Union did not report for work today at the Norristown Times Herald, an afternoon newspaper, and management announced the paper will be published by using a photo-engraving process.

An announcement to be carried on page one of today's editions read as follows:

"The Times Herald is not going to take this fight lying down. It has been published for a century and a half and it will continue to be published, strike or no strike."

Management also issued a statement which declared:

"Members of the local unit of the International Typographical Union employed at the Norristown Times Herald voted yesterday to refuse wage concessions offered by the management amounting to $7.50 a week and failed to report for work today. The paper, therefore, is being photo-engraved."

Psychology for Santa?

He'll Do Okay Without Course

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Well, it looks as if they may psychoanalyze Santa Claus.

Because some child psychology experts say picking Christmas gifts for children is fraught with dangerous possibilities.

They warn that the wrong gift may derange a child's personality, frustrate him in a way to change his whole life, or even give him a psychosis, which is a four-bit scare word meaning he may catch a mental cancer.

This is only another proof that one of the fine arts of this technological age we live in is to make easy things seem difficult, so that anybody nowadays who doesn't spend at least half an hour cooking a three-minute egg is hopelessly old-fashioned.

GOING TOO FAR

But it is going too far to blame Santa Claus for ruining Al Capone because maybe once when Al was a boy he found a top pistol in his Christmas stocking when what he really wanted was a pamphlet on how to figure an income tax return.

It is one of the big lessons in any child's life that he can't expect to get his heart's desire for nothing all the time—even from a saint like Nicholas.

Philanthropy often fumbles. If little Junior is going to get permanent lumps on his ego because he can't sandbag Santa Claus with 100 per cent success, he just bruises too easily to enjoy this vale of frustration.

A MIDDLE ROAD

Picking Christmas gifts for children doesn't call for any more psychology than the common sense anybody has. It is generally a matter of compromise between what the kids want and what the family budget will allow, and 90 per cent of the time the budget can't stand the entire gaff.

All you can do is to do the best you can for your kids as you know them, and if your mistakes foil them so they turn to a life of crime in revenge, don't worry—they'll ask you to arrange the bail bond.

Children rarely get as much as they expect for Christmas, and you can spoil their characters as easily by giving them too much as too little. The two things I thought I wanted most as a boy—a printing set and a bicycle—I never got.

"They'd bankrupt Santa Claus; you'd have to save up and buy them for yourself," said my wise father.

"He had five kids. He knew the requests were passing fancies."

NO BONUS DUE

They were. I found I wanted to emerge on ice cream cones more than I wanted to become another Benjamin Franklin.

Later, I earned extra spending money peddling aspirin to people with hangovers. The drug store owned the bike.

No, Christmas wasn't meant to compete with Heaven. It's just a foretaste—an interlude of gladness, warmed by a spirit of loving kindness that leads people to do some little thing for both children and grownups with no thought of a bonus back.

And they'll ruin the whole spirit if they worry Santa Claus into taking a postgraduate university course in child psychology.

Death Trails Santa To Bedside of Girl, 7

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 8 (AP)—Betty Joe Biddlecome, 7, whom Santa Claus visited at St. Monica's Hospital here Nov. 20 because doctors said she would not live until Christmas, is dead.

Two days before Betty Joe's Christmas party, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Biddlecome, brought her to the hospital. She was suffering from an advanced cancer.

Official List Skips Active Red Front

By DAVID SENTNER

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Rep. Richard M. Nixon (R.) of California, today demanded an explanation from Atty.-Gen. Clark regarding the omission from his subversive list of the name of an outstanding Communist front with which hundreds of high-ranking federal bureaucrats were affiliated.

Nixon, in a communication to Clark, pointed out that "this glaring omission" would serve to protect numerous leftist government employees from being discharged under the loyalty program.

BRANDED IN 1943
The Red Fascist front organization edited out of the Clark subversive list is the American League for Peace and Democracy.

The league was branded subversive in a 1943 list prepared by Atty.-Gen. Biddle. Clark repeated the Biddle list with the exception of the aforementioned Communist front.

The names of 537 government employees were recorded as members of the American League for Peace and Democracy in an official report on Oct. 23, 1939, by the Dies committee.

The report stated:
"It has been established conclusively that the American League for Peace and Democracy was organized and is controlled by the Communist party."

Hundreds of the federal employees mentioned at that time are still in government, and most of them have been promoted to more important positions, according to the present House committee on un-American activities of which Rep. Nixon is a member.

Among the upper officials on the 1939 membership list of the American League for Peace and Democracy is Oscar L. Chapman, under-secretary of the Interior.

In 1939, he was only an assistant secretary in the Interior dept.

NEEDS EXPLAINING

"It is like naming the father and grandson in the family and omitting the name of the son," said Rep. Nixon.

"The American League for Peace and Democracy was not only labeled an influential Communist front by Atty.-Gen. Biddle but has been so described in innumerable congressional reports.

"Why the name of this front was eliminated from the Biddle list to the Attorney-General's subversive designations should be explained to Congress and the American people."

Highest Court Hears Atheist's Plea to Bar School Religion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—An atheist mother's fight to ban religious education classes from an Illinois public school goes before the Supreme Court today for a final decision.

Mrs. Yashui McCollum appealed to the high tribunal to halt such classes after Illinois courts refused to do so. She said they threaten to break down the constitutional wall between church and state and, if allowed to develop without limitation, would defeat the purposes of the public school.

The classes are conducted in Champaign, Ill., school buildings during school hours, sponsored and financed by the Champaign Council on Religious Education. The council contends they are non-sectarian because the material used was collected from many sources.

INCLUDE 3 FAITHS

The organization is made up of representatives of the Jewish, Roman Catholic and Protestant faiths.

Teachers for the religious classes are provided by the council. The regular school faculty takes no part in the instruction.

Mrs. McCollum, the wife of a University of Illinois professor, complained that her son, James Terry McCollum, was embarrassed because he was the only child in his room who did not take religious instruction.

The Champaign School Board replied in its brief filed with the court that when other pupils went to religious classes, James continued his regular studies under supervision of his regular teacher.

BOARD APPROVES

The school board defended the system, saying if the court should outlaw religious education in public school buildings, the nation would be committed to a policy of hostility to religion.

Counsel for Mrs. McCollum replied that if the court upholds the Champaign system, it will make public schools "the organ of religious education and will restore the religious situation of the Colonies before the American Revolution."

The tribunal scheduled two hours of argument on the issues before taking the case under advisement for decision.

Elliott Roosevelt Proposes President-Stalin Parley

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Dec. 8 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt, calling for the establishment of a positive foreign policy, suggested a meeting be held between the President of the U. S. and Stalin as soon as possible after next year's election.

Roosevelt, who served as brigadier general in the wartime Army Air Force and accompanied his father, President Roosevelt, on some of his conferences with Stalin and others during the war years, expressed belief a meeting between the leaders of this country and Russia would erase any misunderstandings between the nations.

Deafened New Hear With Tiny Single Unit

Science has now made it possible for the deafened to hear faint sounds. It is a hearing device so small that it fits in the hand and enables thousands to enjoy sermons, music and friendly companionship. Accepted by the Council on Physical Medicine of the American Medical Association. This device does not require separate battery pack, battery wire, case or garment to bulge or weigh you down. The tone is clear and powerful. So made that you can adjust it yourself to suit your hearing as your hearing changes. The makers of Beltona Dept. 14, 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement that they will gladly send free descriptive booklet and explain how you may get a full demonstration of this remarkable hearing device in your own home without risking a penny. Gasless Sunday, So Britain Walks

LONDON, Dec. 8 (AP)—The British Automobile Ass'n reported today that traffic on the nation's highways dropped to horse-and-buggy era proportions on the first gasless Sunday under Britain's new austerity regulations.

The association said check showed that only five to seven cars an hour traveled main arteries which normally handle between 500 and 700 cars an hour on Sundays.

The only automobiles moving were those listed as absolutely essential—the government having terminated last Monday the basic gasoline allowances for pleasure driving.

A Buckinghamshire gasoline station which normally sold 800 gallons of gasoline on a Sunday reported total sales of three gallons.

Silent Guest Staff Swamped By Gifts, Begg Typist Help

PLYMOUTH, Dec. 8.—The Silent Guest committee has received 6251 letters containing money to buy food for the hungry of Europe since Gov. Bradford broadcast his pre-

Thanksgiving appeal, it was disclosed today as an appeal was issued for volunteer typists to expedite the work of tabulating and acknowledging the gifts.

The small staff has been able to open and record only 2050 letters, which contained a total of $11,430.61, indicating at least twice as much money responses in the large stacks of mail unopened.

The contributions have come from every state in the union, averaging more than $3 each. The money is being relayed to CARE, Inc., New York, overall relief agency.

The letter opened thus far disclosed that among contributors who designated what countries they wanted to help, the largest of the earmarked totals was for France, 31 persons giving $563 for people there. A greater number of givers, 52, asked that their $445.35 be used in sending food to England.

The American-occupied zone in Germany was third with $153 designated for it, while Italy stood fourth with $71.50. Other earmarked gifts, in the order of preference as expressed by the amounts of money, were: Holland, Austria, Greece, Poland, Belgium, Finland and Palestine.

Bradford, as chairman of the governor's committee of the Silent Guest Plan, had asked American families to "entertain" a silent guest" at Thanksgiving and contribute a generous host's equivalent in money for relief.

Today, Basil Harris, national chairman, urged another humanitarian gesture for Christmas. He said, in New York:

"The best way to share is to set an extra plate at the holiday table. Ask every member of the family to put a sum of money on the plate. Let that plate remind you that somewhere another family the same size as yours is unable to have a good dinner unless you help."

The national appeal named Pilgrim Hall, Plymouth, as headquarters with the Silent Guest offices in Broadway, N. Y. Mail directed here is being transported to offices in the Oly Colony Bank Bldg., the money processed through the Plymouth National Bank.

Wylie Claims College Lowers Women's Value to Humanity

Special to the Boston Evening American
NEW YORK, Dec. 8—A college education for women is decidedly detrimental, in the opinion of Philip Wylie, noted author and commentator on contemporary America.

Writing in the December issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, Wylie declares:

FAIL AS MOTHERS

"If he (the average parent) studies the statistical tables to learn factual answers, and if he examines certain surveys of opinion, he may conclude that a college education will probably make his daughter less happy, more foolish, not very knowledgeable and of far less value to the human race."

He said statistics show that a college-educated woman is more likely to be a spinster; that if she does marry, her chances of divorce are greater, and that as a mother she is a total failure because American women college graduates do not bear enough children to replace themselves and their husbands.

"At college, for one thing," Wylie's article continues, "she loses four of the years that are biologically best for bearing children. Again, at college, she is alienated from the life of the home and from community life for four years—in an artificial environment where she ceases to know children, to tend them and even to see them."

CENTERS ON SELF

"During that period her interest is concentrated upon herself—her studies, sports, pleasures, beaux, social successes, and so on. She has all the pleasures of adult independence but none of its responsibilities, and the temptation to make of herself her own spoiled child is almost irresistible."

"Education of the brain without education of the personality is a modern madness. Hitler's torture doctors, for instance had university degrees."

"But, to reform education so that it will truly educate, we shall have to change our national philosophy. Could there be a better way to start than by realizing anew that the first purpose of a woman is to be one?"

U. S. SEEKS FARM HELP

46 Palestine

Trans-Jordan could annex the Arab sector of Palestine.

Premier Samir Rifai Pasha resigned in defiance; two other former premiers refused to succeed him; and only the persuasive intervention of the visiting premier of Iraq, Saïch Bey Jabr, resolved the issue and restored Samir Rifai Pasha to office.

Saïch Bey was en route to the fateful Cairo meeting at which the Arab states clustered about Palestine may fix the zero hour for a general Arab uprising in the Middle East.

The invocation of such strife might be like the opening of a Pandora box, the ultimate consequences of which could not be foreseen. American and British interest in the eastern Mediterranean is likely, because the area is on the high road through Suez of the British Commonwealth and both countries have major oil interests.

Great Britain suggested that the new states come into being June 1, two weeks after the Mandate is surrendered. Informants said the British had authorized the creation of Arab and Jewish civic guard organizations to maintain order prior to concentration of British troops in evacuation centers.

Taut feelings extended even to the American zone of Germany where a Jew was killed, and eight other Jews and an Arab were wounded in disorders over Palestine. The Arabs mostly were displaced persons.

Detroit Printers Voice Strike Plea

DETROIT, Dec. 8 (AP) — Printers and mailers employed by Detroit's three daily newspapers voted to ask the International Typographical Union (AFL) for sanction of a strike.

The action, taken at a mass meeting, was the latest move in the locals' contract dispute with the Detroit papers.

Two locals previously had asked the State Labor Mediation Board to conduct a strike vote. The board was scheduled to set a date today for a vote at the Free Press. Similar action at the Times had been halted by a court injunction obtained by the management.

No request for strike action has been made to the state board by workers at the News, the other Detroit afternoon paper.

Finland's Red Party Suffers Setback

HELSINKI, Dec. 8 (AP) — The Communist-dominated Popular Democratic Party, which emerged from the 1945 national elections as Finland's strongest political group, appeared today to have suffered setbacks in both rural and urban areas during last week's municipal elections.

Preliminary figures from 312 of the 548 municipalities voting showed the conservative parties had won 430 council seats and lost 47; the Social Democrats won 252 and lost 47, and the Popular Democrats won 61 and lost 296.

Atom Plant Strike Parleys Resume

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Dec. 8 (AP) — Company and CIO representatives planned to resume negotiations today in an effort to forestall a strike in one of the government's atomic bomb plants here.

A conference yesterday settled some of the major issues involved in a dispute between the Carbide and Carbon Chemical Corp. and the Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers' Union.

In addition to a 25-cent-an-hour wage increase, the CIO union seeks premium pay for off-hour shifts and improved holiday and overtime pay provisions. The union's contract with the company expires tomorrow night.

29,000 Retired Officers Face Test

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (INS) — Nearly 29,000 Army and Navy officers retired for physical disability faced possible re-examination today as a result of the sensational case of ex-Maj. Gen. Meyers.

Defense Sec. Forrestal disclosed in a report to President Truman that the Army-Navy personnel board recommended the officers be re-examined.

At the same time, a House armed services subcommittee launched an investigation to determine if there had been any abuses of the disability retirement privilege.

Lawrence Man, Friend Killed in Plane Crash

LAWRENCE, Dec. 8 — Death of a local man, Lt. Col. Clarence W. Blaisdell, 57, of the Merchant Marine, in an airplane crash near Galveston, Tex., was reported here today.

MSPCC Pushes Fight to Ban Drinking Mothers From Bars

Fighting a losing battle against the increasing number of mothers who neglect their children to frequent cheap saloons, organizations endowed to act as saviors of persecuted children today revealed their files with strangers she picked up in a nearby bar.

The Mass. Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children often must act as prosecuting agent in courts throughout the Commonwealth when a child must be rescued from a drinking mother.

One benevolent organization cited the recent case of the two children who were fatally burned, playing with matches, while their mother was at the corner saloon. Another revealed the case of a boy of six made blind from drinking a deadly cleaning fluid because he was hungry after his mother had left him alone during a drinking spree.

Another is paying the hospital bills of a tot shocked into insanity by starvation while his mother left him alone on repeated occasions to go on drinking orgies.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, DEC. 8, 1947.

ON APRIL 24, 1946, subsequent to Poland becoming a puppet of Soviet Russia, the Export-Import Bank, an agency of the government of the United States, and the consent of the State Department, made a loan to Poland of $40,000,000 and extended further credits to Poland of $50,000,000 to purchase surplus American property held in Europe. These loans, amounting to $90,000,000 were insured.

At the time the loan was made, the State Dept. issued the following explanation:

"It has been and will continue to be the policy of the United States Government to assist the Polish people in their valiant efforts to overcome the destruction and devastation of this war . . . In the view of this government, however, economic freedom and political freedom are inter-dependent, and for that reason, this government has made it clear on numerous occasions that the election commitments undertaken by Poland at Yalta, and Poland must be fulfilled in their entirety.

"It remains true today, as it was when that pledge was first given, that for the Polish people to achieve their goals of freedom and democracy, they must be given the opportunity freely to elect a government which represents the will of the Polish people."

$90,000,000, did not live up to its "election commitments"; instead, Poland has gone through a political terror, has become a police state, utterly and completely dominated by Soviet Russia. Still, they got the credit of $90,000,000.

Now we come to November, 1947. There is no longer any doubt as to the character of the government of Poland. There is no longer any possible doubt that Poland's coal during 1946-1947 was shipped into Soviet Russia, even depriving the Poles.

Nevertheless, the United States shipped locomotives to Poland made of American steel at a time when we suffer from a steel shortage and Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman proposes rationing steel for American consumption.

The Polish credit is to be used as follows, according to the export-import bank:

Stream locomotives, including spare parts, $16,000,000.

Machine tools and similar equipment for railway repair shops and track maintenance, $15,000,000.

Coal mining equipment, $5,000,000.

Railway communications equipment, $1,000,000.

ACTING SECRETARY of State Lovett makes this point that the credit of $40,000,000 to Poland was for the purpose of helping that country to purchase coal cars and locomotives in the United States in order to facilitate the transportation of coal from Poland to western Europe and the Balkans.

A further excuse seems to be that the steam locomotive manufacturers need a subsidy and this is one way to give it to them. In other words, what seems to be kept alive by shipping our irreplaceable steel abroad.

This is the argument: "We (the Export-Import Bank) were informed by locomotive manufacturers in the United States that, although their plants could produce approximately 1800 steam locomotives per year, they had orders from U. S. railroads for only 80 steam locomotives.

"It is our understanding that this situation has not materially changed and that, although the locomotive manufacturers have a considerable backlog of orders from U. S. railroads for Diesel locomotives, they are desperately in need of orders to keep the plants in which they produce steam locomotives in operation."

IT IS TRUE that the manufacturers produce an annual average of 1800 steam locomotives, varying in size and type. They now have orders for a total of about 200 steam locomotives; 35 for American consumption; 165 for foreign consumption.

But approximately 1000 Diesel electric locomotives are now on order, principally for American railroads. These Diesel locomotives vary from one to four units per locomotive and the horsepower ranges from 60 to 6000 each.

So what it comes to is that most American railroads want Diesel electric locomotives, and the steam locomotive is passing out. The American manufacturers of steam locomotives ought to shift from an unwanted to a wanted commodity or go out of business.

Instead, they and the State Department and the Export-Import Bank cook up orders for 165 steam locomotives to be sent abroad but paid for by the American taxpayer and using American steel of which we say we have a shortage.

Stassen Demands US Halt War Goods to Russia

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen accused the Soviet Union of "obviously trying to block the recovery of Europe" and said the U. S. should not ship "one single machine or material to Russia that might become part of a war machine."

The former Minnesota governor, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said the U. S. sent more electrical machinery and apparatus to Russia this year than combined U. S. shipments of similar material to England and France.

Sixth anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor was observed by several local gatherings, at one of which Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers warned that America must strengthen its armed forces now to be prepared for another such sneak attack.

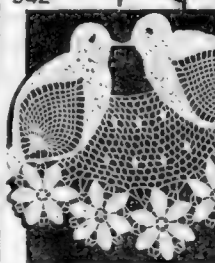

The Lowell Representative declared, "This country is not sleeping at present, but it still is not thoroughly conscious of the great dangers facing it. We know that Russia is preparing countless submarines and building up her armies. That is why I talk defense."

She spoke at Robbins Memorial Town Hall in Arlington, where a tribute was paid to Corn. John J. Shea, who wrote a famous letter to his son, Jackie, shortly before he went down with the aircraft carrier Wasp.

Fruit Cake Quickie Style

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

AROUND THIS TIME OF YEAR we receive many requests for fruit cake and spice cake recipes. To be really good and properly aged, a fruit cake should be made several weeks ahead of Christmas.

But often with the rush of Christmas activities there isn't time to do justice to the making of an honest-to-goodness fruit cake. That's when we appreciate the quick approach to the subject.

One of these "quick approaches" is a refrigerator fruit cake, which requires no steaming or baking. It can be made today and served tomorrow.

REFRIGERATOR FRUIT CAKE

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter or margarine, melted

$\frac{1}{4}$ cups quick oats

1 lb. chopped pecans or walnuts

1 tbsp. unflavored gelatin

2 tbsp. water

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup marshmallow creme

$\frac{1}{4}$ lb. chopped dates

$\frac{1}{4}$ lb. chopped figs

$\frac{1}{4}$ lb. chopped candied mixed fruits

$\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt

2 tsp. orange extract

1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Cherries

Candied fruit peel

Combine butter or margarine, quick oats and nuts. Toast until brown in shallow pan in hot oven (400 deg. F.). Turn frequently. Soak gelatin in water 5 minutes. Dissolve over hot water. Add to marshmallow creme. Mix $\frac{1}{2}$ of the toasted oats and nuts, marshmallow creme, dates, figs, mixed fruits, salt and flavoring. Fold in whipped cream. Sprinkle remaining toasted oats and nuts

in bottom of waxed paper lined

8-inch deep layer or spring form pan. Pack cake mixture into pan firmly. Cover and chill overnight. Unmold and garnish with cherries and candied fruit peel in any desired design.

Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Another quick approach to this holiday cake-making operation is Tomato Soup Cake—and we have many requests for this recipe from time to time. Chefs may snort over using honest tomato soup for such a purpose, but families still call for this popular cake, and in many home files it is a well thumbed recipe.

When you make it, you'll see why—because it turns out a fine, moist cake of rich color.

TOMATO SOUP CAKE

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening

$\frac{1}{4}$ cups sugar

8 eggs

1 11-oz. can condensed cream of tomato soup

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup water

1 tsp. baking soda

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1 tsp. baking powder

1 tsp. cinnamon

1 tsp. nutmeg

1 tsp. cloves.

Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly. Add eggs and beat well. Combine soup, water and baking soda. Sift together flour, baking powder and spices. Add the soup mixture and sifted dry ingredients alternately, stirring after each addition. Pour into a square greased pan (9x9x2 inches). Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 65 minutes. When cool, frost with cream cheese frosting.

Note: If desired, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup seedless raisins may be added before batter is poured into pan.

CREAM CHEESE FROSTING

1 pkg. (8-oz.) cream cheese

$\frac{1}{4}$ cups confectioners' sugar

$\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. butter or margarine, softened

$\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. vanilla

Beat cream cheese with rotary beater until smooth. Add con-fectioners' sugar and continue beating until well blended. Add butter and vanilla.

Let Alerting Cream Aid Your Complexion

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

THIS IS NO TIME OF THE YEAR to stop looking pretty . . . just because you are up to your eyebrows in holiday shopping. Who isn't? But, remember holiday nights are also on the calendar.

Granted when the schedule is heavy . . . there is a tendency to get lax, to slip up on that old taunter, complexion care. It is one of the frailties of human nature to slow down on one thing . . . when others crowd our efforts and energies. But, then, when Christmas Eve arrives . . . that festive occasion will have you in a dither because you look like just what you are . . . doggone tired! Do you expect to look like the "look of the month" glamor gal?

TREAT THE FACE KINDLY

The little snitching doesn't usually do too much damage. It is when the filching of essentials becomes a habit . . . when you start cutting corners here and there with night-in, night-out regularity . . . that skin sluggishness up and strikes. Treat the face kindly and it rewards in expansive radiance. But try giving the complexion the well-known brush-off treatment because you are sleep-maginated after a day of weary trudging . . . and watch how it loses resiliency, elasticity, illusive youthfulness and natural pep.

Life would be wonderful if the complexion could get a once-a-week going over that would suffice the hardships of other days. But can a gal eat one day for seven? Back in pioneer days women didn't have available the wonderful beauty aids we modern 20th century women have at our disposal . . . yet they catered to beauty in their own manner. For even in those rugged days . . . women recognized the importance of a soft, subtle skin and evaluated the pretty look for what it was worth.

All of which is preamble to a splendid facial alerting cream. We call it an after-trying-day cream for the results of its application obliterate all signs of the complexion weariness of the previous hours. We dislike using the word "magic" in describing the efficacy of cosmetics for magic carries it with a hokus-pokus connotation. And specific and corrective cosmetics are not to be associated with hokus pokus.

NEW, DIFFERENT WAY

Yet after a 15-minute or half-hour session with this cream . . . the complexion changes so wondrously for the better that you can't help but think some miracle has been performed. Use it this new and different way . . . and be duly surprised.

On a clean expanse apply a film of this cream. Then with elbows resting on a table . . . place thumbs under jaw bone and index fingers at corners of eyes . . . and lift face slightly. Keep perfectly still . . . do not move facial muscles . . . and remain in this position for, at least 15 minutes. Then remove with cotton moistened in tepid water. And freshen further with a skin lotion.

Now you are ready for make-up and a gay time ahead . . . or for a beautiful you resting in slumbering comfort for an even more beautiful you on the morrow. Who said surgery was necessary for face lifting?

For the name of this facial lifting and alerting complexion cream, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 2-4900, any day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR Miss Fairfax:

Will you please publish in your column the states in which one can be married without delay or blood tests?

"A. C."

Dear "A. C.":

There are six states which do not require either blood tests or a period of waiting in connection with the license. They are: Arizona, Arkansas, Kansas, Montana, Nevada and New Mexico.

If you are in such a hurry that you feel you cannot wait while you fulfill the requirements of your own state in regard to marriage, then, unless there is some definite reason for doing things in such a rush, I think a period of thought on your part is indicated. The requirements that most states

A WOMAN is no less fashion conscious just because she is going to sponsor a blessed event. And this season she is not only a happy mother-in-waiting, but a very well-dressed one. Modified flange surplice gives a middy collar effect on this good-looking New York gray wool for the mother-to-be. make as preliminaries to marriage are for your own protection, and you would be foolish indeed not to take advantage of them.

At the most, it requires a good deal less than a week to fulfill these requirements, and it would be a very rare instance in which that time could not be taken by two people who want to marry.

Blend Costume Colors

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

MEN WHO TAKE their wives to the ball game always vow never again, for just when the first baseman is hitting a homer and the fans are on their feet yelling him in, the little woman is turning around to see what the girl two rows back is wearing.

She might be wearing something like the ensemble sketched today. Michael Woulfe designed it for Laraine Day to wear in RKO Radio's forthcoming Technicolor production, "Tycoon." This costume for spectator sports wear has a smoke gray wool skirt cut straight and slim with wide side pleats pressed toward the center front. Teamed with the skirt is a soft, full blouse of canary yellow linen. It has a high neck and long, gathered sleeves with wide cuffs. The blouse is tied at the neck and wrists with long loops of self fabric. The sleeveless vest is wool flannel in white. It is partially striped with yellow and the inset stripe motif is repeated in the collar. The yellow-covered buttons form a V down the front.

CIO to Ask Raise For Insurance Agents

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 8 (AP)—Saverino Savastano, president of Local 36, United Office and Professional Workers of America, CIO, said a meeting of union leaders had voted to demand a $10 a week pay raise and $50 a week minimum salaries for agents of the Metropolitan Insurance Co.

Savastano said 45 delegates attending the conference represented 1650 agents of the company in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Amvets Urge Christmas Food Truck to Navajos

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 8—The AMVETS state executive committee passed unanimously a resolution asking formation of a Christmas truck caravan to carry food and supplies to the destitute Navajo Indians in New Mexico.

Other resolutions passed commended San Francisco for its current slum clearance program and asked Congress to establish an academy for training American diplomats.

Soviet Friendship Group Protests Communist Tag

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—The National Council of American-Soviet Friendship made public a letter to Atty. Gen. Clark protesting what it termed the "arbitrary" inclusion of its name in his list of subversive groups. The letter, signed by William Howard Melish, national chairman of the group, was quoted by the organization as saying in part: "We demand that you serve us with a bill of particulars upon which you base your conclusion concerning our organization. We demand a public hearing to refute the unfounded charges."

Huge Holy Land Cash Need Cited

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 (AP)—Eliezer Kaplan, treasurer of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, said the organization planned to bring 1,000,000 Jews into the Holy Land within 10 years and estimated the cost of transporting, feeding and sheltering them would be more than $400,000,000.

He said the Palestine Jewish community "has not now the vast resources" required to carry out its program that "the Jewish communities throughout the world, principally in the United States, will have to face up to the challenge (and) prove their readiness to help build the new state and to repair the shattered remnants of our people."

"We will not only have to provide security, freedom and opportunity for our inhabitants, Jews and Arabs alike," he added.

Boy, oh boy! I love that "Man"—the "Mighty Man" witch is as every gob an' tar an' salt knows is the USS Manchester! My favorite Navy ship come in dis week and chased the wolf away from the door fer a spell! Them guys might jest as well have moved the paymaster in too to save themselves the trouble of goin' back to the pier fer more dough! They been gettin' all their relaxation ashore in my Grille. I gotta mind to rig out a nice ole scow as the SS Izzy Ort an' follow the fleet, hoverin' off the leeward side at the end of day! Wat a life! Wat a bunch of guys! They has inspired me to remind 'em that every soldier, marine an' sailor ashore on Christmas Day is welcome to come by Izzy Ort's an' have his holiday turkey an' fixin's wid me! I'm feedin' bananas to a choice pack of turkeys to make the meat specially tender an' juicy! I git hungry myself thinkin' about it! They's only 9 more days fer Christmas shoppin' fer the kiddies, etc., but every nite is shoppin' nite fer folks steppin' out fer bargains in fun an' refreshments right here at my place, the favorite hidin' place of Boston's cafe society and hep folks! Ya see, it ain't fer nuttin' that folks say from coast to coast the gayest gay afternoon an' nite spot in Boston is Ort's, 25 Essex St. Adv.

Smart Set Sturgis-Mitchell

By BETTY ALDEN

JOAN ELEANOR MITCHELL of Brookline and Robert Shaw Sturgis of Weston will have a setting of Christmas greens and candlelight for their lovely Christmas season wedding, Dec. 20 at St. Paul's Church, Brookline.

The reception will be at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Mayhew Parker Mitchell of Milton rd. Sally Woodworth of Brookline will be the bride's only attendant and Neville Sturgis, brother of the groom, best man. The ushers will be N. Russell Sturgis, brother of the groom, Guy R. Mitchell of New York, brother of the bride, R. Scott Leavitt of New York and John Friedman of White Plains.

Sarah Reed

The prospective bride is popularly known as Chiquita because she was born in Mexico City while her father was in the diplomatic service. She graduated from St. Catherine's in Richmond, Va., and the School and served in the SPARS.

Mr. Sturgis is the son of Mrs. R. Thomas Sturgis, of Weston, who is giving a bridal dinner on the eve of the wedding. Mr. Sturgis graduated from Harvard with the class of 1944, served in the USAAF and is now attending the Harvard Graduate School of Design.

BARBARA KNOX TALL, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Eastman Hall of Wellesley Hills, will be presented at a tea dance at the Algonquin Club, Dec. 23. One of the attractive members of the 1947-48 debutante group, Barbara is a freshman at Colby Junior College where she was recently elected to the Glee and Dramatic Clubs.

The ushers for her party will be Edwin C. Jordan, Parker Montgomery, Lawrence Austin, John Torrey, John Williamson, Richmond Porter, Martin Beggin, Graves Hewitt, Richard Fitzgerald, Thomas Hubbard, James McDonough and Louis Cloutier.

WITH THE HANDSOME new Vincent Memorial Hospital dedicated only two weeks ago, plans are well under way for the next Vincent Club show that annually raises thousands of dollars for the support of the hospital.

Dorothy Rackemann, president of the Vincent Club, Mrs. Alfred

Kidder 2d program chairman and Sarah S. Reed, show chairman, are conducting a meeting at Zero Marlboro st. this afternoon to get the advertising campaign under way. Chief requirement for provisional membership in the Vincent Club is to take an active part in the campaign so all the provisionals not away at college are beginning their jobs this afternoon. Last year's provisional members sold $18,000 worth of advertising space in the traditional yellow and gold program.

The 1948 Vincent Show will be produced in April at N. E. Mutual Hall. Among those attending the first meeting in its preparation are Mia Atherton, Mrs. John L. Allen, Edith Margaret Baker, Janet Beebe, Mrs. Page Browne, Linda Cabot, Sheila Cordingley, Brooks Emmons, Sarah H. Foster, Claire H. Fuller, Leila Hammond, Francine Jaques, Beatrice Leydet, Joan Livermore and Florence McKean. There will be a second meeting on Dec. 30.

RUGGLES STREET Nursery School, demonstration center for the "Nursery Training School of Boston," will hold open house tomorrow morning for corporation members who will watch the little children between two and a half and four at work and play. Ruggles Street is one of the most famous nursery schools in the country and serves 50 children in a thickly settled community.

Mrs. Robert S. Swain of Boston is president of the Training School corporation and Miss Elizabeth M. Staub, a member, is director of Ruggles Street. Members are Mrs. Charles R. Peck, Mrs. Francis W. Jenness, J. Lind say Ware, Margaret Thacher, Mrs. Diana H. Abbott, Mrs. Frederick J. Adams, Mrs. Arthur W. Allen, Mrs. Richard C. MacLaurin, Mrs. Leroy F. Marek, Mrs. Fred B. Lund, Jr., Mrs. Robert B. Pitcher, Mrs. Ernest P. Ralsback, Mrs. Ellen Jencks and many more.

Injuries Turn Hospital Aides Into Patients

Two City Hospital employees became patients at the institution today following mishaps while at work.

Miss Anna Paindexter, 18, a student nurse who lives in Vose House, burned her hands while sterilizing surgical instruments. Edwin Flaherty, 26, of M st., South Boston, pinched a finger in a swinging door.

Army Wipes Out 4-F Stigma

During the last war the Army rejected several million men who were actually qualified to serve in uniform. In the next draft—if and when it comes—there will be no "4-F's."

The Army, now aware of the false stigma placed on men who could have served in some non-combat phase of the war, is acting to see that it doesn't happen again. Everyone will have a chance to serve his country. How the Army is eliminating the "4-F" label through a new classification system will be told in the exclusive article, "The Stigma Is Lifted from the 4-F's," in next Sunday's American Weekly, magazine issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

New Champ, Maybe!

By George McManus

'Dempsey Would Have KO'd Louis' Says Doc Kearns

By JACK CONWAY

Jack (Doc) Kearns and Johnny Rogers, who is American representative of Bruce Woodcock, dropped over to our table at Dinty Moore's in New York the other night as we had dinner before the Louis Walcott fight. Kearns managed Jack Dempsey years ago and cut up $10,000,000 with the then champ.

"If my Joe Maxine had not lost to Jersey Joe Walcott, he would be in there getting the crack at Louis, and he would have a chance to win," said Kearns. "Louis is 32 years of age, looking forward to retiring undefeated next year, and cannot be expected to have the fire that carried him to the championship. Heavyweights start going back fast once they reach the age of 30.

"Remember the night Dempsey fought Sharkey in the Yankee Stadium? Dempsey was 32 at the time, and his legs were not what they used to be. Sharkey gave Dempsey the worst licking the old Manassa Mauler ever received and he would have won by a knockout if he had not taken time out to claim foul. Sharkey was fouled, but could still fight. He was a much better fighter than Dempsey that night and he should have left the ring a winner by a knockout.

"Sharkey was almost the perfect ring machine. He could box, had speed and power and could hit."

I asked Kearns what would have happened if Dempsey at his best had met Joe Louis at the peak of his career which was probably the night he knocked out Max Schmeling in the opening round of their second tussle.

"Dempsey would have knocked Louis out," declared Kearns. "Louis never did take a punch around the head well, while Dempsey proved in the Firpo bout he could come up off the floor fighting. Jack at his best was a strong, rough fellow who could absorb a lot of punishment and hit harder than any heavyweight in modern times."

Dempsey Now Worth $2,000,000

There was a time when Dempsey and Kearns were not too friendly. That was before the Dempsey-Tunney bout in Philadelphia. Time is a great healer, and Kearns asserted he and Dempsey are planning a movie of the old Manassa Mauler's career that will net them $150,000.

"While we were talking about the movie contract," went on Kearns, "I asked Dempsey how much he was worth. I thought the figure might be up around $3,000,000 as Jack has always been a big money maker in and out of the ring. He recently made $175,000 after taxes when he sold the Great Northern Hotel in New York, while his restaurant on Broadway has been one of the busiest places in town.

"Dempsey laughed when I mentioned the $3,000,000 figure, but he did say he would have $2,000,000 if he liquidated all of his holdings. There are also $100,000 trust funds for Joan and Barbara, Dempsey's two daughters.

"It is too bad Dempsey was unable to gain more happiness out of married life. Jack was married to Estelle Taylor and Hannah Williams, moving picture and theatrical stars. Dempsey was always on the move himself giving exhibitions, boxing and refereeing. Show people also move around, and under such conditions it is difficult for a married couple to spend a great deal of time with each other. Marriages break up with neither party to blame. I think it is better when show people marry someone in their own profession."

Skillful Boxers Always Bothered Dempsey

Skillful boxers who had speed always gave Dempsey the most trouble.

There was Tommy Glibbons at Shelby, Montana and Sharkey in New York," declared Kearns. "Big guys like Jess Willard and Louis Firpo gave Dempsey a good target at which to shoot."

I asked Kearns if he had any explanation for the lack of promising young heavyweights.

"The war is probably the answer," declared Kearns. "It was a blitz war with men in service being hurried to all parts of the world. There was no time for our service men to train for boxing tournaments. Those boxing tournaments that were held were hit and miss affairs.

"It takes five years to develop a heavyweight, and, of course, there was not that kind of spare time with the whole world virtually at war."

I met Doc as he walked through the lobby of the Garden after Jersey Joe Walcott had belted Joe Louis to the canvas in the first and fourth rounds and lost a questionable decision.

"Remember what I told you about Dempsey knocking Louis out?" queried Kearns. "On what I saw tonight, Jack would have scored a kayo in the first round.

"This was a business trip to New York, but I did enjoy the fight beyond expectations. Walcott is still a hungry fighter and eager to get some of the good things of life for his wife, six children and himself. Louis is rich and is looking forward to retiring."

"Maybe I shall get Joe Maxine into the heavyweight division. Meanwhile I shall take care of my interests in a Ford agency and in a Chicago brokerage office. I'll be seeing you in Boston soon. Say hello for me to Dan Carroll.

"Remember the time I made the trip to Boston to buy Jim Maloney's contract from Johnny McGrath? Maloney had color and could punch. He would do well if fighting today."

AMERICAN BOARD PICKS ALL-STAR TEAM

Members of the Boston Evening American All-Scholastic football board—10 strong—will meet tonight at the Hotel Lenox to select the Official Eleven for the 1947 campaign.

The Board will include Harry Downes, Brookline; Bill Ohrenberger, Boston School Department; Fred Murray, Roslindale; George Kenneally, Revere; Dave Gavin, Melrose; Henry Trosky, Arlington; Deane Gildea, Everett; Glenn O'Brien, Salem; Mark Devlin, Lawrence, and Bill Cronin, Hingham.

The Official team will be announced later this week.

Leahy Enthuses Over Grand Play Of Notre Dame

By FRANK LEAHY

Head Coach Notre Dame University

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 8—This will be a white Christmas for the Leahy family even if it doesn't snow. The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame assured us the happiest Christmas of our lives by beating Southern California Saturday in Los Angeles.

The 38-7 victory climaxed the first all-winning year enjoyed by the Irish since 1930. Knute Rockne, the immortal "Rock," was coaching then. No wonder we feel so happy and proud of this year's Notre Dame team.

The Notre Dame team that swept the hard fighting Trojans before them was the greatest college football we have ever seen. It was a team sure of itself, quietly so we might add, and sparked by as great a field general and passer as any coach ever had the pleasure of directing. Johnny Lujack was all of that.

Lujack, playing his final game for Notre Dame, was superb. If he ever made a mistake it was in lacing his shoes and they look all right to us after the game. So were Connor, who played the finest game of his brilliant career, Czabowski, Fischer, Walsh Sitko, Livingston and all the rest.

They performed brilliantly as a team, as well as individually. We were proud to be their coach. It is too bad Notre Dame and Michigan are not scheduled to meet this year. That might have been quite a ball game.

The size of the score was a bit misleading. Southern California held us touchdown for touchdown the first half. Fred Earley's placement kick gave us a 10-7 lead at half time. Otherwise the Trojans were very much in the ball game.

Especially their ends—Paul Cleary proved clearly why he was chosen on so many All-American teams, but Dave Lloyd stood out even above Cleary on defense. We nipped at their ends at the start of the contest. It took only a short time to realize we would have to drive inside if we expected to get anywhere.

Michigan will find a determined bunch of boys facing them in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. Fritz Crisler, Wolverine coach, saw our game and we imagine he learned something from the experience.

Emil Sitko's 76-yard run which came after only forty-five seconds had elapsed in the second half, cracked the ice and sent us on our way. He exploded through tackle and found open air as a result of some magnificent blocking by Connor, Fischer, Czabowski and other Irish who seemed to be flying through the air like a green wave breaking against a beach.

Bob Livingston's explosive, weaving, 92-yard touchdown run was also a thing of beauty to watch, and there was Al Zmijewski, a substitute. Al had worked hard all year and was the fortieth man to be picked for the trip. Al must have thought all of his home town of Newark, N. J., was listening, because he intercepted a pass with only fifteen seconds left to play and chugged over for a touchdown.

"I felt like running right on out of the Coliseum," Al said later. Wait till they see those movies in Newark.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs added points to its first place margin in the National Hockey League last night by defeating the Chicago Blackhawks, 3 to 2, before a crowd of 16,491.

QUESTION IS WHERE IS AGGANIS GOING?

The passing of Harry Agganis, the flashy forward passer of the Lynn Classical team, who rates with the great schoolboys of the past including Ned Mahan, Charlie Brickley, Leo Harford, Kenny Park, Clair Clarke, the Twombles and Jack Leahy removes from the scholastic football scene one of the outstanding boys of the past three decades.

This amazing youth finished his career in glorious fashion. He had 123 pass completions in 195 attempts. This yielded a total of 1577 yards and 23 touchdowns.

Lujack, Connor Join All-East

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7 (INS)—William Coffman, manager of the Shrine East-West game, announced today that Johnny Lujack and two other stars of Notre Dame's undefeated grid team will play for the East in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium, New York's Day.

Lujack will be joined in the East All-Star lineup by the two Irish tackles—Captain George Connor and Symont Czabowski.

The East Shrine team now has 19 men on its roster with five more to be selected.

Transaction Wins N. Y. Jockey Club Cup

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 8 (AP)—Transaction, 4-year-old bay colt, yesterday won the 7½ furlong New York Jockey Club classic at the Hipodromo De Las Americas.

A trophy for the race donated by the New York Jockey Club and its President William Woodward was presented to the winner by Pablo Macedo, president of the Jockey Club Mexicano and his daughter, Senorita Ana Maria Macedo Pizarro.

touchdowns. His best mark was against Gloucester High when he had 23 completions out of 32 tries.

Where is Agganis going? Some say, Notre Dame, others believe he will land at Boston College or Holy Cross. Meanwhile the Red Sox and Braves are seeking him as a first baseman, but naturally they would be reluctant to do any business with him if he continues to play football and even basketball in which he stars as well. It will be interesting to see where this grand looking athlete winds up.

Wheeling Tenders Joe Walcott Good Offer

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 8 (AP)—A $25,000 offer for Jersey Joe Walcott to engage in a 10-round professional boxing match here in January was wired the fighter last night by the Fifty Sportsmen Club of Wheeling, Byron Phillips, spokesman for the group, announced.

—the land of sunshine and comfortable temperatures.

Deserving, too, are these boys who captured the Eastern State championship in football this season with a smashing undefeated record, climaxed by a victory over Malden in its traditional Thanksgiving Day game.

They'll be off on a trip, completely financed by their well-wishers from their home town, named, too, by other pupils who want only to see their football team chalk up another victory against the Robert E. Lee high school of Jacksonville next Friday night in a floodlight game—their first arc-light test of the campaign.

The journey will be a novel one. For when they say afterwards that they went by train, they'll really mean it—with emphasis. They'll sleep in their special cars before a work-out at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis; they'll return to their bunks before practice at the U. of South Carolina in Columbia. They'll sleep some more before hitting their destination in Florida Thursday morning.

Coach Tom O'Connor, heading the official roster will not be lacking in material to inspire his boys to triumph. He can tell them how their rooters in the band contributed $100 to their success; how girls' sororities, unrecognized in the school, chipped in with $35; how the student body solicited almost one third of the money necessary to finance their post-season reward.

Other members of the official party, along with Coach O'Connor, will be assistants Marty Donovan and Joe Murphy; faculty manager Henry Eucor; Mayor Walter E. Lawrence (whose son was one of the many stars with the Mustangs this fall) and headmaster Edward Leonard.

It's Medford's first shot at a post-season trip and it's a certainty that the boys will make the most of it. They'll be out to win first so that the trip back will be just as merry as the trip to the Southlands.

And, of course, we don't mind at all getting away from this slush and snow, either.

STAMFORD BEATEN, 13-0
JERSEY CITY, N. J., Dec. 8 (AP)—Romford School of Washington, Ct., won the Legion Bowl football game here yesterday by defeating Eastern Military Academy of Stamford, Ct., 13 to 0. It was the tenth straight victory for Romford.

PASSING OUT of schoolboy football competition is Harry Agganis of the Lynn Classical team who bowed out yesterday with eight out of 13 successful passes in the North Shore All-Stars 19-6 victory over the Suburban All-Stars.

BALTIMORE 10, ROVERS 5

BALTIMORE, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Baltimore Clippers won an Eastern Amateur Hockey League contest from the New York Rovers, 10-5, last night and the home team's margin of victory came after the regular New York goalies were hit by a flying puck and had to leave the game.

Danny Schmidt, a former local high school player, was hurriedly pressed into service when Rob Decoursey's nose was broken early in the third period. His timing off, Schmidt allowed five goals. The game was delayed while Schmidt got into uniform.

Bruins Finally Win On Pat Egan's Goal

Ill luck continues to pursue the hapless Boston Bruins who a few short weeks ago looked like a cinch to waltz into the play-offs without much stern opposition. This has all been changed. Last night at the Garden, as the Bruins won a thriller, 1-0, Fern Flaman joined Milt Schmidt and Murray Henderson among those absent for some time to come.

Flaman, playing his usual aggressive game, banged into the boards and Bobby Carse of the Canadiens piled in with him. There was the inevitable crash. Flaman was unable to rise. Other players assisted him to his feet and he was taken to the dressing room.

Dr. Tom Kelley announced that Flaman had twisted the inside of his left knee and also the inside of his left ankle. No breaks were found but the courageous defense man may be sidelined for a week or more.

This bit of hard luck coming on top of the Milt Schmidt-Murray Henderson injuries placed the Bruins squarely behind the black ball. When you lose your ace forward and two regular defense players a coach has something to think about.

The fact that the Bruins broke their eight game non-win record was impressive hockey news. And how they registered this winning marker is a story in itself.

Pete Babando launched the game-winning play. He set up a five-man rush. He also set up Joe Carveth for a close-in shot. Joe managed to bat back his own rebound to Pat Egan. The colorful Pat gathered the rebound and scored the only goal of the game.

Frankie Brimsek, playing another of his sensational games, posted his second shutout of the season. Brimsek was great last night. He had 19 saves to Bill Egan's 24, but Brimsek's were close, in a rule, and put the burden directly on him.

In this high-flying game, one of the best of the season, Jack Crawford, Pat Egan and Clare Martin were standouts along with Brimsek. In other words, the Stalwart Bruins' defense really won the game.

The Canadiens played without the great Maurice Richard, who suffered a twisted left knee in the 4-0 victory over Detroit Saturday. With Richard out of action the Canadiens didn't look so aggressive. HOEY

Celtics Face N.Y. Knicks

The battle for first place in the Eastern Division of the EBAA becomes a personal duel at the Boston Garden on Wednesday night when the two contenders, the Boston Celtics and the New York Knicks meet. A preliminary game will bring together Cathedral and Columbus High Schools. The New York-Boston tilt will be the third meeting of the two teams; each having won one on its rivals' court. The Knickerbocker platered the Celtics by a 91-75 count at the Garden, but the locals reversed the decision the very next night in New York, 65-63.

Saul Mariaschin led the Celts to their New York triumph and earned himself starting berth with the team for his evening's toil. Since that game the former Harvard star has become an important cog in the Celtic wheel and the team has defeated New York, Washington and Providence, while losing an overtime decision to Baltimore.

New York appears to do about as well as their veteran Stan Stutz.

By nothing 24 points against Providence last Friday night, Ed Sadowski of the Celts stepped back into the top spot of the league scoring race. Sadowski has now collected 215 points to head Joe Fulks who sports 195. Saul Mariaschin has begun to climb in the list since he has been used regularly. Over the four-game route as a starter, Saul has fired 52 points through the netting for a 13-point average.

Harvard Against Terriers In Promising Court Battle

Fresh from their troublesome triumph over a stubborn MIT quintet, the Boston University five are looking anxiously forward to their second waxed floor battle of the early season—with the Crimson of Harvard tomorrow night at the Garden on one end of a sparkling collegiate basketball doubleheader.

Reason for the anxiety of the Terriers to trip over to the North

PAT EGAN, whose goal broke the eight-game non-win streak of the Bruins in the game with the Canadiens last night at the Garden which the home boys won, 1-0.

Trinity Schedules All 'Little Three' in 1948

HARTFORD, Ct., Dec. 8 (AP)—For the first time since 1920, and the sixth time in its history, the Trinity College football team will play all members of the "Little Three"—Wesleyan, Williams and Amherst—in 1948, according to the schedule announced today. Except for the replacement of Bates by Amherst, the seven-game slate is the same as Trinity played this year, winning six contests and losing to undefeated Wesleyan.

Skiers Have Chance To Get Early Practice

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Thanks to co-operation from the weatherman, local skiers enjoyed their sport at many spots during the week-end. Of course, with a base lacking on suburban slopes, the skiing was hardly that found in mid-winter—but nobody complained, for all were happy at the opportunity to obtain some early practice.

After a terrific hammering from hundreds of slippery slats, the hills of the Commonwealth Country Club, at Newton, are wearing green and brown patches of grass, many a skier taking a tumble by catching a steel edge in the turf underneath the powder. The rope tow was in operation at this rendezvous.

Locke's Hill, Amesbury, was visited by large numbers of enthusiasts, and this place is one of the nicest in this region, in our opinion.

Other slopes where tows rolled included Ward Hill, Shrewsbury; Healey Hill, Leominster; and the Groton Country Club. "Backyard bushwhacking was in order too, many being content to climb up and ski down under their own power.

Bill Eagleson, erstwhile ski trooper, who heads the ski school at Temple Mountain, Peterborough, N. H., tells us that the skiing was good on these slopes. The tow provided transportation for scores during the week-end.

QUICK CHRISTIES. All the northern ski centers benefited by the recent snowfall, with the skiing reported good on most of the slopes and trails. However, skiers should remember that a base is needed on many of the trails, and are urged to exercise control.

"What is the proper type of wax to use?" many have asked us lately. There are all kinds of waxes for all kinds of snow, but we have discovered that graphite over a reliable lacquer is very satisfactory nearly all the time.

The Boston "Y" Outing Club will hold its annual "ski night" this evening at eight o'clock, in Bates Hall, at the Huntington ave. building. The program will be featured by ski movies, chief talks on skiing technique, equipment and clothing. The affair has been planned to interest both beginners and experts, with admission free to all. The Boston "Y" Outing Club has a membership of more than 225 young men and women.

Italian Champ on Dempsey A.A. Card

Never defeated in his boxing career which includes 103 fights, Livio Minelli, Milan, Italy, European welterweight champion, comes to Boston for the Dempsey A.A. to fight Willie Odom, of New York, in the 10-round main bout, Friday night, in Mechanics Bldg. Minelli comes to Boston and risks being injured while bouts in NYC, Chicago and Philadelphia hang in the balance.

Twin 10 Round Bouts Billed at Providence

Matchmaker Manny Almeida has carded a twin 10 round wind-up for the weekly fight show at the Providence Auditorium. In the top fray Billy Murray, Boston who made a big hit in the same ring last week faces Tony Falco, Hartford, Ct.

In the second 10, light heavies will be in action with Tiger Ted Lowery, New Bedford and Sam Baroudi, Akron, O. trading punches.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, MONDAY, DEC. 8, 1947

This victory together with Philadelphia's defeat, placed the Steelers a half game ahead of the Eagles. If the Eagles should whip the Green Bay Packers next Sunday, the two Pennsylvania clubs will wind up deadlocked and necessitate a play-off here Dec. 21 for the right to meet the Bears in Chicago on the 28th.

Thus the Steelers are sitting pretty and local followers were more than compensated for braving pneumonia and sitting through chill winds and a heavy drizzle.

Early in the fray it didn't appear that Pittsburgh would need any fourth period help. Sweeping the Yanks right off their feet, the Steelers had 10 points before the Yanks were warmed up.

Early in the second period, the Yanks went all the way from their 17 to the Pittsburgh 35 before losing the ball when Walt Slater intercepted a Dancewicz pitch on his 10.

Bill Paschal slashed for four and then took a Dancewicz pass on the Steelers' 12. Three passes failed and in rushed "Monk" Maznicki for an apparent field goal. Joe Golding knelt and took the pass.

Tam Sheehan Named to High AAU Office

Rhodes was elected unanimously yesterday as the annual A. A. U. convention closed here. On Saturday night he had won over Willard N. Greim of Denver, who sought a fourth term at the head of the big amateur sports organization.

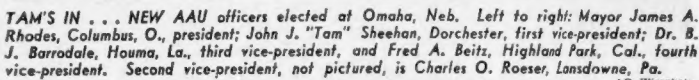

He explained he wanted to expand A. A. U. work in the field of youth, particularly the underprivileged, doing this as a supplement to the present broad program of the union.

But, he added, he plans "no revolution," continuing that the fight between himself and Greim for the presidency was not a youth versus age matter, as some delegates appeared to regard it.

Moved up with Rhodes in the officer shuffle was John "Tan" J. Sheehan of Dorchester, Mass., who went from fourth to first.

The convention awarded the 1948 meeting to New York city on Dec. 2, 3 and 4. The other bidder was Daytona Beach, Fla.

Two Hurt in Brighton Blast

'Dear Santa —' Assured that they will receive answers to their requests, these youngsters line up before a "Santa" mailbox in Downey, Cal., to inform the "Merry Gentleman" of their Christmas desires. Women's organizations in the city have promised to take over the huge job of replying to all requests. More than 1000 children have already dropped their letters into the popular mailbox.

Salvage Jewish Goods —Members of the Haganah, Jewish underground organization, stand in a truck in Jerusalem's commercial center, salvaging what goods they can from Jewish shops which had been burned and pillaged by rioting Arabs. Gigantic fires have been set in the Holy Land. It is believed they were set by the Jewish underground in retaliation of Arab attacks and burning of Jewish homes.
